HOUSEWIVES NAB IKE TO WISH HIM GOOD LUCK

LONDON (AP) — Two housewives seized an unexpected opportunity for a personal chat with President Eisenhower today as he headed through London to St. Paul's Cathedral.

The scene was Kensington High Street, a big shopping centre.

The motorcade pulled into the curb for President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan to switch from a limousine to an open car.

Mrs. Jacqueline Wollaston and Mrs. Elma Atkey rushed up to Eisenhower and said:

"We just want to wish you good luck."

"Well, thank you very much," Eisenhower replied. They all shook hands.

'Real Hope' For Summit — Eisenhower

LONDON (CP) — President Eisenhower said tonight that there is "real hope" for an East-West summit meeting if Premier Khrushchev realizes that peace in the world is imperative.

CIVIL SERVICE PROTESTS SALARY DELAY

HALIFAX (CP) — The Civil Service Federation of Canada today approved a strongly worded resolution protesting what it termed the federal government delay in announcing general salary increases for its more than 80,000 civil servants.

A telegram of protest is to be sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other federal officials.

B.C. Highway Probe 'Purely Provincial'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton said today an RCMP investigation in connection with certain trans-Canada highways contracts in the Kamloops area of B.C. was purely a provincial matter.

He likely will discuss it with Public Works Minister Walker, however.

Mr. Fulton made the statements in reply to questions at a press conference on his arrival here to attend the Canadian Bar Association convention.

A reporter asked if his department had received reports on the RCMP investigation into the handling of contracts in a $1,600,000 trans-Canada highways project near Kamloops.

He said his department had no indication that any federal funds were involved; federal public works department engineers checked these projects, and if they were satisfied, the federal government's financial share was paid.

He knew no more about the matter than what he had read in newspaper reports, he said, but it would be a fair presumption that he will discuss the matter with the minister of public works sometime after his return to Ottawa Wednesday.

The RCMP report was turned over to Attorney-General Bonner of B.C., who said at the time that it showed that further action was not necessary. A highways department regional superintendent left his job during the investigation.

'Hagatorium' Burns Press

LONDON — The British press, angry because President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan refused to give it a news conference today, blasted "The Hagatorium" for releasing only crumbs of gossip.

The unkindest cut came when Eisenhower and Macmillan appeared on an "ad-lib" television program after their pre-Khrushchev visit talks.

"The Hagatorium" is reporters' name for 10 Carlton House Terrace, headquarters of James Hagerty, the president's spokesman, and press centre for the Ike-Mac talks.

A row flared up briefly Sunday between reporters and Hagerty and foreign office spokesman Peter Hope.

Today the row burst into print.

Bandits Take Polio Vaccine In Bizarre Laboratory Raid

Worth $50,000 But Hard to Sell

MONTREAL (CP) — Seventy-five thousand doses of Salk vaccine worth $50,000 were stolen early today by three armed bandits from the University of Montreal laboratory in suburban Laval des Rapides.

Dr. Lionel Fortier, assistant director of the university's institute of microbiology and hygiene, said the vaccine was to be shipped today to the provincial health department in Quebec City for distribution in the province.

"The bandits were after the Salk vaccine," he said. "But I don't know what they'll do with it. It will be hard to sell."

The vaccine arrived last week from Connaught Laboratories in Toronto to help ease

a shortage of the anti-polio shots in the province.

Three men, armed with revolvers and with their heads covered with nylon stockings, forced their way into the laboratory where Salk vaccine and other serums are manufactured.

They broke the lock on a large refrigerator filled with vaccine and escaped with the contents.

Dr. Fortier said the vaccine, in cardboard boxes, could be transported in a private car.

Gunmen Overpower Night Watchman

The vaccine has been in short supply largely because of a run on inoculations set off by Montreal's current polio epidemic.

The bandits overpowered night watchman Arpolis Beland while he was making his 3 a.m. check of the exterior of the laboratory.

"I told them there was no money in the building," Mr. Beland told police. He quoted the bandits as replying: "We know that but money is not what we want."

They locked him in a cage containing 500 rhinus monkeys which are used in the production of the vaccine.

Mr. Beland said the appearance of the bandits was frightening.

"My heart began to beat wildly," he said. One of the bandits noticed his condition.

"Let's go easy, he might collapse in our hands," Mr. Beland quoted one of the bandits as saying. "This man talked as though he knew medicine."

Threatened With Blackjack in Cage

Mr. Beland said one of the bandits returned regularly to the cage and threatened him with a blackjack. Finally about 4.30 a.m. the bandits left. The night watchman was unable to free himself until 6 a.m. He immediately called police.

On a preliminary investigation it appeared that only Mr. Beland's car had been taken. Police left the premises.

Mr. Beland called them back later when he noticed that the lock on a refrigerator containing Salk vaccine had been smashed.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, city health director, said the theft would not affect two Salk clinics to be held tonight and Tuesday for about 20,000 persons. The clinics will provide second shots of anti-polio vaccine for people who got their first shot three weeks ago.

He said ample supplies were reserved for the free clinics when city officials found their reserves were dwindling at the height of Montreal's mild polio epidemic.

Crossing into Bhutan By Chinese Reported

KARACHI (Reuters) — Chinese Communist troops have entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, the Associated Press of Pakistan news agency said today.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report from any other source.

The report was given by the agency's Calcutta correspondent, quoting a usually reliable source in Darjeeling, India.

The 18,000-square-mile state of Bhutan lies in the eastern Himalayas and is bordered by India, with which it has treaty relations, and Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru of India announced Friday that any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim, another Himalayan state, would be regarded as aggression against India.

Cabinet Shift In Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — A shuffle of cabinet posts involving four ministers was announced today by Premier Manning.

A Russell Patrick will become minister of industries and development, a new portfolio, and provincial secretary, Raymond Reirson will become minister of labor and minister of telephones.

The changes will be made official Tuesday when the ministers are sworn into their new jobs. The size of Premier Manning's cabinet remains unchanged at 12 members.

The job of provincial secretary was held by Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor held the telephones portfolio.

RED-LED MOBS BATTLE POLICE IN CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Police fought pitched battles with Communist-led mobs throughout Calcutta today. Law and order was reported to have broken down in some of the busiest parts of the city.

Many policemen were injured as the rioters hurled brickbats at every police van and motorcycle seen on the streets. Street lamps were smashed.

FIRST VICTIM'S SISTER

Polio Takes Second Life

By MICHAEL ROSE

Polio has struck for the second time in British Columbia, taking the life of the sister of the first victim.

Mrs. Verne Erickson, Maple Bay Road, Duncan, died Saturday at 9 p.m. in Royal Jubilee Hospital after 15 days in an iron lung.

Sister of Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, who died a week before in the same room, the 26-year-old woman is the mother of four and was completely paralyzed before her death.

Although she had had no polio inoculations she was thought by doctors to be over the worst period of the disease, and Jubilee Hospital medical administrator, Dr. Murray Anderson, said today that she had been "doing reasonably well."

SPACE ROCKET

40 Minutes To L.A. From London

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. space scientist today disclosed plans to build a space rocket that could hurl passengers 5,500 miles from London to Los Angeles in 40 minutes.

Darrell C. Romick of the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation said company scientists working on the rocket have evolved a three-stage vehicle about 150 feet long consisting of a passenger compartment and two separate boosters. Each of the booster sections will be manned by two or three men as well as the passenger section.

Romick, head of Goodyear's astronautics section, said there would be room for about 25 passengers and that the space liner could be flying by 1975.

The passengers would lie on couch-like chairs in the space liner and in a matter of minutes would be shot 35 miles into space at the speed of 12,000 miles an hour.

This peak altitude would be reached about 400 miles from the takeoff point, Romick said. Then the power in the two rocket boosters would be cut off, the rocket would glide toward its destination and when it had slowed to about 400 mph turbojet engines would bring it down into a normal landing.

POLIO KILLS NFLD. BOY

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The health department said today a 10-year-old St. John's boy died in hospital of polio Sunday, boosting the total number of deaths this year to four.

The polio case count rose during the weekend to 60. Of the 60 cases treated to date, 36 have been iron-lung cases.

Supplies of Salk vaccine ran out late last week but the department expected to receive new supplies Sept. 10.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our Father, Who has given us the means of enjoying the beauty in Thy created world, we thank Thee for summer days of relaxation. May our rest be truly refreshing. May our vacation period send us back to the regular tasks of life with enthusiasm and joy. And may we never cease to be grateful to Thee for a life of busyness as well as a life of relaxation. Give us the knowledge and ability to know when each is in order that we may live each day in effective Christian living; for Christ's sake. Amen.

"Has he submitted it?" the minister was asked.

"No comment."

"Has his 14-day appointment been extended?"

"No comment."

"Can you say when the report is expected?"

"No comment."

"Is it true Dr. Deutsch has left for Toronto?"

"No comment," said the minister of labor.

Meanwhile it was reported from Vancouver that Professor Deutsch left by air for Toronto Sunday, apparently having completed his report.

Professor Deutsch, retiring head of the University of B.C. economics department, who assumes a new post next month at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., had declined to give any indication of the nature of proposals he might make on it, or if he would request an extension of the 14-day period within which the provincial government had asked him to report.

CHECKED OUT

He checked out of the UBC Faculty Club Sunday morning, after closing his Hotel Vancouver commission headquarters.

Professor Deutsch had his final meeting Friday with representatives of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA). During the previous 11 days he had met frequently with union spokesmen and representatives of the 125 affected coastal logging firms.

It was believed he completed his report for Labor Minister Wicks Friday night and sent it to Victoria Saturday.

CCF LEADERS MEET TO DISCUSS SEMINAR

WINNIPEG (CP) — Thirty members of the CCF national council met here today to discuss regular council business and, in the words of national president David Lewis, "to assess the results of last week's seminar."

The meeting of the CCF top brass was not expected to make major decisions on the formation of the new CCF-labor party which was the subject of the seminar. Mr. Lewis said that such decisions will be the responsibility of the next CCF national convention, to be held in July, 1960.

Farm Aid Wooded For Labor Party

WINNIPEG (CP) — A strong affiliation and must remain free to carry out its legislative functions in relation to any government.

In his statement at the windup of the seminar, Mr. Knowles, former CCF deputy leader defeated in last year's election, said there will be further study conferences before formation of the new party, expected next year.

Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan and Commons CCF Leader Hazen Argue pressed for farm backing in speeches before CLC executive vice-president Stanley Knowles issued a session-closing statement to the press.

Mr. Douglas said that the farmers and his CCF party should work together.

"Agriculture has had no organization and no bargaining power," he said. There is "an affinity of interest and an interdependence" between farmers and industrial workers.

"We have been deluged with insidious propaganda that their interests are diametrically opposed." This was designed to split the groups.

CLC president Claude Jodoin told the seminar that the need for a new party was greater today than ever. But "... the congress ... must leave complete freedom of choice to each union on the question of thing that I think we must all strive to achieve, whether we are geographical neighbors or not, and I am quite sure if Mr. Diefenbaker were here he would say we are neighbors in the sense of the Biblical parable, just as well as we are geographical neighbors.

WELCOMED BY ALL

Macmillan, ending the broadcast, assured the president that every single man, woman and child in Britain welcomed him here.

The president asked to be allowed a final word to the British people. He said: "I want to thank everybody that has played a part in showing his kindness and British hospitality to me and my party.

"God save your gracious Queen and all her people."

In advance of the telecast, official spokesmen had virtually nothing to report on what they decided in their weekend of conferences at Chequers, the country estate of prime ministers 37 miles northwest of London.

Reporters were told the talks covered the ability and readiness of the West to resist Communist aggression and the prospects of agreement with the USSR on suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

London roared another salute to Eisenhower today as he rode through the heart of the city to St. Paul's Cathedral.

Thousands massed around St. Paul's as Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan rolled up in an open car. They went to the cathedral for a solemn half-hour in the chapel built in memory of 28,000 British-based American servicemen who lost their lives in the Second World War.

Appearing rested after the weekend of talks in the country with Macmillan, Eisenhower spread both arms wide in answer to the cheers of the crowd.

Fagin Parents Live Off Theft

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Police today said they were seeking a father and mother who supported themselves by teaching their seven children to steal.

Kenneth Myers, 39-year-old former Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., guard, and his wife, Dolores, 41, were wanted on charges of burglary, receiving stolen property and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The Fagin-like couple was believed travelling in a house trailer with four of their children whom they have trained as professional pickpockets, shoplifters, auto thieves and burglars, according to police.

Activities of the Myers family were revealed to juvenile bureau detective Simon Bolger Saturday when the couple's 14-year-old son was arrested attempting to steal a small machine tool in a store.

The youth told Bolger that his father spent a year schooling the seven children in the ways of crime. He estimated the family made about $5,000 this year and was responsible for about 600 minor thefts since moving to the San Diego area last Christmas.

The youth said his elder brother and sister refused to take part in the family theft scheme and subsequently were "expelled" from the family. He didn't know where they are now.

Half the population would be homeless. Radiation would cause millions of terrible deaths and contaminate food and water supplies.

However, the committee determined that 100,000,000 would be unhurt, that fields would recover their fertility and that millions could be saved through civil defence bomb shelters for all. Such shelter, it estimated, could cost from $5,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000.

The Senate-House of Representatives committee on atomic energy, after an analysis of its hearings last June on the biological and environmental effects of nuclear war, said:

"Probably the most significant finding ... was that civil defence preparedness could reduce the casualties ... from approximately 20 per cent of the population to about three per cent."

The committee assumed, in dealing with a hypothetical attack on the United States, that 263 nuclear weapons would burst over heavy population centres, industrial and military targets.

It found that 50,000,000 Americans would die and 20,000,000 more would be seriously injured.

Appeal to UN By Tibet's Exiled Ruler

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters) — The Dalai Lama appealed Sunday to the United Nations and the free world to support Tibet in its fight for "freedom and justice" against Communist China.

He asked the "verdict of all peace-loving and conscientious nations of the world on the dismal tragedy of my people" overrun by Chinese troops last spring after an abortive uprising against Chinese occupation.

The exiled spiritual ruler, who fled to India at the time of the revolt, said he had no other alternative than to appeal to the United Nations since the picture of Tibet under Chinese control "has become immeasurably darker and gloomier and the sufferings of my people are beyond description."

TALKS TO FARMERS

Khrushchev Sees Hope In World

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Premier Khrushchev says the present world situation is "not too bad, rather it is even good."

The Communist party newspaper Pravda today printed his speech, which was made Sunday night in the village of Veshenskaya, 600 miles south of Moscow, to a meeting of collective farmers.

Khrushchev said he is going to the United States next month with "good intentions" and with the desire to contribute to relaxing international tensions.

"We are determined to take such steps as could help to melt the ice in the cold war," he said. "We like to hope that the United States government will be influenced by the same considerations."

BENEFIT WHOLE WORLD

"It is clear to every man with common sense that the improvement of relations between the Soviet Union and the United States would not only benefit the Soviet and American people but also the peoples of the whole world."

Referring to the current international situation, the Soviet leader said to judge by the main sign—the safeguarding of peace in the world—"it is not too bad, rather it is even good."

He said a letter he received from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in reply to a Khrushchev letter on relations between the two German governments "on first reading produces a favorable impression."

The Adenauer letter, which was printed in today's Pravda, "is more restrained in tone, and in this respect greatly differs from the previous documents of the government of the Federal German Republic," Khrushchev said.

Adenauer's letter said controlled disarmament of both nuclear and conventional weapons should be the "primary aim of every statesman, no matter where he stands."

Recognition Of Red China 'Necessary'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Young Democratic leaders called Sunday for early establishment of diplomatic relations with Red China as a necessary step toward world disarmament and nuclear control.

The resolution was passed with one dissenting vote.

As far as is known, this represents the first formal expression by a segment of either of the two major political parties of the idea that effective disarmament and nuclear control eventually will depend on agreement by the government which controls 630,000,000 people on the Chinese mainland.

NEW RULER OF LAOS ARRIVES TO TAKE OVER

PRINCE SAVANG VATTANA

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Crown Prince Savang Vatthana, due to take over this week as regent of Laos from his ailing 74-year-old father, King Sisavang, arrived Sunday from the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

The 52-year-old crown prince originally was scheduled to be invested as regent today. But the government said the investiture has been postponed until Saturday. No reason was given.

Buddhist monks chanted a blessing as the crown prince arrived in this flood-threatened city by plane.

One hundred yards away the swollen Mekong River threatened to sweep over its banks and into the city.

MORE JUVENILE VIOLENCE IN N.Y.

2 Die in 'Street War'

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said today two youths will be charged with murder in the fatal stabbing of two 16-year-old boys—the latest victims of New York City street violence.

80 Youths Terrorize U.K. Reform School

CARLTON, England (AP) — Eighty shouting teen-age boys armed with knives and chisels took over a reform school for 3½ hours Sunday. Sunday night they stormed out in a mass escape.

By midnight, police patrols searching the surrounding countryside had netted more than 50 of the escapees.

Many of them were handcuffed and put into police cells to cool off for the night. "We don't think it's a good thing to take them back to the school," said a police spokesman. "They are in a violent mood and nobody knows what they may do once they get together again."

It was the second breakout within 48 hours. Saturday the boys had marched out of the school and laid their grievances before an American writer living nearby who had befriended them in the past—40-year-old Talcott Williams. He persuaded them to go back.

This time they were in no mood for the American's quiet persuasion.

At least 10 other youths also are in police custody. They will be held as material witnesses or charged with unlawful assembly, Chief of Detectives James Leggett said.

The victims were stabbed to death shortly after Saturday midnight when a gang of youths armed with knives attacked eight teenagers sitting in a playground.

Leggett said the fatal stabbings apparently did not represent organized gang action but were a personal matter growing out of an individual grievance. He did not explain further.

STAGGER ACROSS STREET

The two 16-year-old boys, Anthony Krzesinski and Robert Young, staggered into tenements across the street before they collapsed and died.

Ewald Riemer, 18, was in fair condition today in hospital, suffering from a stab wound in the abdomen.

Schools—Fish or Cut Bait

ONE WEEK FROM TODAY families of this community will be winding up the long summer vacation. Those with school age children will send them to class the next morning.

This is a ritual of long standing. This year, however, the return to studies takes on a slightly different appearance.

Schools are stiffening their demands on pupils. General trends and specific incidents have shown the new attitude. Children will be required to fish or cut bait in school. The day of the gentle float upward from one grade to another is closing. If it has not closed.

Something more than straws in the wind are:

The comment of Mr. John Homer, chairman of the Cowichan school district: "We've spent a lot of money on 'seatwarmers'. Now we'll spend a few dollars on someone who wants to learn."

The decision of a Castlegar magistrate justifying the action of a firm but not unkindly person the discipline applied by a principal who strapped a boy on the bare buttocks.

The number of young people who were required to attend summer school sessions this year to make up credits in subjects failed in the ordinary examinations.

The general decision to care more fully for the needs of the earnest and the superior pupil.

These developments, it seems, reflect the attitude of those in charge of formal education in this community and elsewhere in British Columbia.

But teachers and department officials as well as local authorities appreciate the fact that the school job can not be done successfully without the close co-operation of the family from which the student comes.

Conventionally at the end of August and in the first days of September, the family makes the physical preparations for the return of children to classes. Parents buy books and supplies, outfit their youngsters, attend to the various details which the start of a new term entails.

Wise parents this year will go beyond physical preparations. They will spend time adjusting mental approaches to the new school year both for themselves and their offspring.

That means, among other things, that fathers and mothers will give thought to the purpose for which their boys and girls are being sent to school—a purpose too frequently overlooked.

The pupils attend to learn. They are not there merely for the social activity of schools, desirable as it may be in the broad sense of the term, but to work, to master the technique of studying and to take advantage of the instruction for which their elders pay—and pay substantially—in taxes.

The co-operation of parents in impressing these facts on the young will vastly assist the authorities in their educational task.

At all events, the schools, judging by present trends, are intent on doing a good job. Discipline will be a little firmer. Emphasis on study will be a little heavier.

Sensible parents will appreciate the attitude which is becoming increasingly apparent in an educational system criticized in recent years for too much leniency.

Let's Hear the Story

CANADA, ALONG WITH THE United States and other western nations, has been sharply criticized for refusing asylum to four stowaways fleeing communist Yugoslavia.

The refugees in question reportedly spent five months aboard a Danish ship crossing and recrossing the Atlantic, seeking a haven in a Western country before Austria opened its doors to them.

An Austrian newspaper has blazoned across its front page its indignation over the plight of the wanderers—with acid criticism of this country and others like it.

"We realize," said the newspaper, "that a country has its laws, that authorities comply with the laws. But we fail to grasp the reason why nations with so much space for millions of people could not apply humanity instead of law in the case of four people... who—to the letter of the law—have ceased to be human beings because they have no papers, no visa, no money..."

This is sharp-tongued comment that deserves consideration.

It should be weighed, however, against some of the experiences Canada, the United States and other western countries have passed through in caring for refugees.

It is shocking to think of refugees being denied worthwhile people who seek escape from tyranny. Certainly that is not the way Canada responded to the appeal for help for Hungarians after their land was over-run following the rebellion. But even in that case a sympathetic welcome to freedom fighters, not all those who came have proved acceptable.

And again, in the widely publicized instance of Christian Hanna, a reluctance by Canadian immigration authorities to allow him in seems to have been justified by later events and his repatriation to the Middle East.

By all means let's have our officials look into the case of the four Yugoslavs and see if they have been treated in a "cold-blooded, bureaucratic" way. But let's also withhold judgment until we find out, provided the information can be made public, why neither the United States nor Canada opened the door to them.

Casting the First Stone

THAT STALWART CONSERVATIVE journal, the Toronto Telegram, surveying the Liberal landslide election victory in Newfoundland, arrives at the improbable conclusion that Premier Smallwood's proposed tour of Canada will prove another milestone on the downhill grade of Liberal Party fortunes, and a "headache" for national Liberal leader Lester Pearson.

The reason is, the Toronto paper argues, that Mr. Smallwood's confederation election issue was a "phony" one. No final interpretation of the controversial clause has yet been made. Upon entering confederation Newfoundland was to receive $8 millions a year as a special grant until 1962, "and thereafter."

Mr. Diefenbaker said this meant that the situation would be reviewed at that time and meanwhile Newfoundland could expect that the grant would be discontinued then. Mr. Smallwood said the clause obviously meant the special grant would be continued, and that it was on this basis that Newfoundland signed the confederation agreement.

The point may be arguable, but it can certainly not be called phoney. More than one Canadian politician has found early obscurity because he underestimated the capacity of the Canadian people to stand up—and vote—for a principle. If Mr. Smallwood can convince them that he is right, the milestone may be Mr. Diefenbaker's, spelled millstone.

Whad'ee Say?

IT NOW DEVELOPS THAT OPERATORS of electronic computers need a special vocabulary to talk to their machines—a point we had overlooked as we marveled at the mechanical brain.

Though it is strange to think that a machine which can handle the intricate jobs assigned to such computers can't handle ordinary English, it seems a fact that responses come only with the proper word choice.

So the experts have developed a "pidgin" tongue easily mastered by the layman. With the modified language the message can get through.

Now we're waiting for the mechanical brain to develop a vernacular understandable to the average layman. That promises all sorts of benefits to the ordinary individual.

Just think of taking your mechanical brain to the ball game and setting him to spout in vulgar terms the traditional epithets expected from the fan for the umpire. Then the fan could sit back to enjoy the game while George the Gad-get shrilled his vituperation at the man in blue—just another little step in taking the labor out of spectating.

'It Sure Looks Real, Doesn't It?'

THINGS TO COME

By B. A. TOBIN

The Doctor Will See You Now

ONE of the latest gadgets at the garage these days is a sort of see-all, hear-all, know-all device that reads the innermost secrets of your car's battery.

Hardly bigger than a radio, it is enclosed in a streamlined case and its front is decorated with needles and dials of various sizes and colors. By hooking up your battery to this contraption, plugging the whole thing into a wall socket and flicking various switches and knobs you can read your battery as clearly as a signal from a sputnik. Each leaking cell, each shorting plate, each ailing ampere or vacillating volt is exposed in all its wretchedness, not to say treachery, and all in the space of a minute or two.

On the principle that if it's good enough for your car it's good enough for you, it seems that somewhat similar machines are now being planned for human diagnosis.

Just as the old family doctor, who knew your father and maybe even your grandfather, who was on hand when you were born and likewise saw all your children into the world, has gradually been replaced by the specialist, so the new medical robot has every indication of replacing the human expert.

No Secrets

In an earlier generation the family doctor knew all about you. It might have taken him thirty years to get all the facts, but he had them, and they were ready for use when the need came.

With the new electronic marvel, it may take only thirty seconds to reduce your whole physical and mental life to a set of graphs and charts, prescribe a cure and send you on your way.

They may even include a friendly smile, a pat on the back and an enquiry about little Susie's tonsils—it would take only another transistor or two.

Of course, such a machine isn't on the market yet. But the first steps have been taken. Already the Russians have exhibited an "electronic doctor" which can diagnose up to one hundred illnesses when the symptoms are fed into it. U.S. medical experts are doubtful about its accuracy.

But another development by the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Centre gives a gadget that can make a preliminary diagnosis of disease, to be checked later by its human assistants. It has shown a five per cent error, compared with the two per cent error of physicians.

All Automatic

When these mechanical wonders are combined with other existing devices that show, on one set of dials, the blood pressure, temperature, pulse and electrocardiogram of a patient, a big step will have been taken toward the electronic doctor.

There is even talk of developing an electronic nurse, but obviously this is carrying things too far.

A nurse may be a precision machine to the medical experts—a hand-over of surgical instruments, a tier-up of bandages, a stirrer of medicines, an administrator of pills, a massager of knotted muscles or sore joints—all these things and dozens more. But to a patient she is a much different creation.

She is a cool hand on a flushed brow, a cheering smile in a dim sick-room, a word of encouragement in a moment of pain, a comfort-making touch on the sheet or pillow—these things are a nurse. And where will they find an electronic box to provide these services?

Fringe Benefits

How will a transistor measure the exactly right feel of a cool palm, the perfectly correct warmth of a morning hello, or the brisk but friendly encouragement when a new stage of treatment must be ventured into?

Obviously, it will be a long time before the electronics boys can duplicate all these virtues. We have nothing to fear for a while yet.

The doctor will probably be the first to go. It is not hard to imagine the scene a few decades from now.

Joe Doakes has decided he had better drop in and see about that pain in his stomach that's been bothering him for a few days.

He takes his place in the waiting room and fumbles through the magazines, looking for something that will interest him.

They seem to be a little single-minded in their scope: The Electronic Digest of May, 1952; The Home Electrician, February, 1959; Electronics for Everyman, April, 1957; Preliminary Report of the Standing Committee of the A.M.A. on Developments in Infra-Red Oscillations of the Neuro-Sensory System as Observed in Cases of Electro-Therapeutic Treatment of Physio-Nuclear Disintegration (Washington, 1964, Op. cit.).

Luckily, there is not long to wait. A voice on a loudspeaker rasps his name and Joe steps into the examination office.

Facing him is a tall metal cabinet, covered with dials and knobs. A card slides at him from a slot in the machine. He fills in all the particulars requested by punching holes in little squares marked on the card. He pokes it back into another slot.

The machine clicks and whirs for a moment. A metallic voice instructs him to grasp two metal knobs, with his hands. He does so, there is a buzzing sound from the machine and the dials begin to twitch and flutter.

Quick Examination

The voice tells him to stick out his tongue in front of a small lens. He does so. A beam of light shines on his face and there is a sharp click. He is told to breathe into a mouthpiece. Another click rewards him.

Small levers project. One taps his chest. Another knocks his knee just below the cap. A third prods his stomach.

For another moment or two the machine buzzes quietly, the loudspeaker giving out an occasional meditative "H'mmm" and sometimes "H'mmmmm."

There is a final whirring sound. A card pops out at Joe from still another aperture. It is a prescription, which he can get filled at a slot-machine on the way out.

It's automatic, as is Joe's insurance card that pays for it all. But the machine didn't know Joe when he was a baby. And it didn't seem really interested in little Susie's tonsils. It does a good job but he'll never feel very close to it. And it will seem kind of silly to send it a card at Christmas.

In Comparison

How does British Columbia compare with the Canadian average when it comes to working conditions?

Here are some figures released by the Federal Department of Labor, showing the percentage of employees of plants pooled who enjoy the benefits listed:

| | B.C. | Canada |
|--------------------------------------|-------|--------|
| Standard work week, 40 hours or less | 94.7% | 70.1% |
| Two weeks vacation with pay | 97.4 | 95.4 |
| Time and a half overtime rates | 97.9 | 85.1 |
| Retirement plans | 64.1 | 69.3 |
| Group life insurance | 83.4 | 89.4 |
| Physicians' services in hospital | 91.9 | 78.6 |
| Doctors' home and office calls | 90.6 | 51.9 |

Kind People

May I, through your paper, thank all the kind people who sent me money after my wallet was stolen out of my purse?

I would also like to thank the employees of the department store that I was in at the time of the theft, the city police, and the newspaper for their kindness. I have received $43, most of it anonymously, for the $42 stolen. This has been a really heart-warming experience for me and I am very grateful to everyone for their notes of encouragement and the cash.

If anyone should find my wallet, or any of the papers, from it, I would appreciate it very much if the finder would either mail them to me C.O.D. or leave them at the city police station.

Lame Excuse

The provincial government should offer equal facilities under the payroll deduction plan to its employees to purchase either or both of the PGE bonds or the National Savings Bonds, the latter of which the employees have been buying for many years.

The employees should have absolute freedom to decide for himself and make his own choice.

No lame excuses that the provincial accounting machinery will not permit the duplication of payroll deductions should be accepted.

The provincial accounting has done far more wonderful things. It has converted debts into contingent liabilities, although some of us who are ignorant cannot recognize the difference, but perhaps Grandpa Santa Claus knows best.

Vocabulary

In a column signed by Don Ing-ham, on August 24, I seem to have had a new word added to my vocabulary, which by the way, I cannot find in any of my seven dictionaries, namely, the verb "scrabbled" used in the fifth line from the bottom of the page in the division marked, "Inches to Spare."

Could it be possible the writer meant "scrambled"? If "scrabbled" is a fit and proper English word and properly used here, I am thankful for having been taught this new word. If, however, he has been listening to some of these fast-talking disc jockeys, whose chief amusement seems to be complete abuse and destruction of the Queen's English, I hope I never have an occasion to use the word.

In the same sentence I find the verb "jockeyed". If it so happened that a lawyer was among those passengers would he not have cause for complaint for being accused of dealing unfairly or ungentlemanly with his fellow passengers?

As for the air show, it just looks to me like a new way to find out what the next world is like more easily.

JIM LACEY.
240 Durrance Road.
(Editor's Note: Apologies for "scrabbled". It should have been "scrambled", so either the writer or the printer made a mistake. "Jockey" is acceptable as a verb used to indicate what the race riders on horses do in tight corners.)

Not Mr. Gagliardi's Job

Re my recent letter on 60 mph, I would not be human were I not a bit "chuffed up" to find the provincial superintendent of motor vehicles of the same opinion as myself. One hopes he will not be fired for his statement!

Mr. Bonner's investigation will be of no use. These deaths, etc., don't necessarily occur in 60-mile zones. When the speed fools once taste 60 in the legal zones the 50-mile signs do not mean a thing to them. They will drive 60 anywhere.

He tells us "we are simply harassing motorists by holding them to 50." What a shame to harass the motorist even though it would save lives. I have not the slightest objection to them doing 60 if the Almighty will assure us that they will kill only themselves and not sensible law-abiding innocent people.

I would say that three out of four people killed or broken up are in the latter class. The reduction or increases in speed should not remain in the hands of the minister of highways. His job is to build highways.

Mr. Gagliardi should know the Lord's Prayer which says "Lead us not into temptation." This is just what Mr. Gagliardi has done and speed maniacs and drunken fools have not the sense of responsibility to resist the temptation.

FROM WASHINGTON

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Truman and Eisenhower

THE day before the President left for Western Europe, Mr. Truman published an article which began by saying,

"I seriously question the wisdom of President Eisenhower's going to Moscow." Later on in the article Mr. Truman reminded us that he is in favor of the visit by Mr. Khrushchev to Washington. This separates him from those who object to receiving the Soviet dictator in the United States, who argue that this will constitute an endorsement of the history of the Soviet Union, that it will constitute an appeasement of the Communist revolution, and that it will produce a debilitating complacency in the Western world.

Mr. Truman is in favor of the Khrushchev visit, thinking that on balance it may do more good than harm. What he disapproves of is the President's decision to return the visit.

Jealous Guardian

Mr. Truman, who is a jealous guardian of his conception of the traditions of the Presidential office, cannot be ignored when he speaks his mind about what is wise and not wise for a President to do.

Nevertheless, Mr. Truman's reasoning is weaker than his instinct. His instinct tells him that when a President "leaves the country it should be a momentous occasion in the exercise of the unique authority of his office. The power and leadership of the Presidency should not be dissipated in ceremonial visits..."

For my own part, I think that at the bottom this is a sound view. But for compelling practical reasons it cannot any longer be applied absolutely. Thus Mr. Truman, writing the day before the President was leaving for Bonn, Paris and London, did not object, and by implication at least gave these visits which are not so very "momentous" his blessing.

To be sure, the visit of an American President to Moscow is an unprecedented and spectacular event. Mr. Truman is afraid that this journey may lead "the world to expect that peace can be advanced by the mere exchange of visits between heads of government."

From Our Files

Aug. 31, 1899 — Ottawa: Customs revenue collected for Canada in August is the highest in history. The amount is $2,631,870, a half-million more than last year.

Aug. 31, 1919 — A 3½-ton motor truck, laden with sand, crashed through the Craigflower Bridge yesterday and dropped down in the waters of the Gorge below.

Aug. 31, 1939 — London: Great Britain today ordered mobilization of her navy as preparations to be ready in event of war. Matched strides with efforts to preserve peace.

Ceremonial Visits

Mr. Truman deplores these "ceremonial visits" which are to him "so reminiscent of the days when diplomats and rulers traveled back and forth on their 'balance of power' visits which marked this the bloodiest century of history."

It is not clear to me what Mr. Truman is trying to say. But if he means that meetings by the heads of government are a new invention in this century, he is mistaken.

What is new is that the American Presidents, beginning with Wilson in 1918, have felt it necessary to participate personally in these meetings of the heads of government. The reason for this is very obvious.

Before the First World War the United States was not a world power. Since the First World War it has been a world power, and as such the President is bound to participate personally and personally in all the great decisions affecting the peace of the world.

The most serious objection to personal Presidential diplomacy in foreign countries is that when the President himself is the negotiator, he has no backstop who can instruct him, warn him, and overrule him.

Main Source

That was the main source of the trouble in Wilson's experience at Paris in 1918, that as negotiator in Paris he agreed to things which as President in the White House and with final authority, he would have rejected.

Secretary Dulles, who was in Paris in 1918, had acquired from that experience his deep distaste for summit diplomacy. I have always thought he was right. But why then was he being driven in the months before he died, why has the President now been driven, to accept the hazards of summit diplomacy?

Because, so it seems to me, normal diplomacy through foreign ministers and ambassadors has become frozen and sterile. Yet, as the President said on Tuesday, the race of armaments goes on and nothing is being done to prevent an explosion.

That is why the President has gone off on his venture—because there was no visible alternative to going off on it. (C) 1959 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Morning Visit

"WHERE'S Sharon these days?" Ellen asked her young friend Wendy. "You always used to play with her and I haven't seen her for a long, long time."

"She's gone to live in Edmonton," said Wendy. "Her Dad got moved."

"Bob works for X company, you know," said Wendy's mother. "They shift them round a lot. Company policy, I guess."

"What an upheaval," said Ellen. "New home, new school, new friends for the children. New everything."

Wendy's mother nodded. "Bob was thrilled to go, but Esther's the kind that likes to stay put. A few deep roots that last forever, and not a lot of shallow ones that you're always pulling up, was the way she explained it."

"It's queer, isn't it?" said Ellen. "My parents, for instance, expected to stay put. That old house on Elm Street. They were there forty or fifty years. We were born there, and raised there, and married there."

Ruth

"But nowadays, when so many people are working for some big company or organization, they move around a lot. You know how, in the paper, you so often see a picture of a grim-faced man and read that the company is proud to announce his appointment as manager, and how he's come to the city after years of experience with the company in A, B, C or D. His final reward, or punishment, is his transfer to head office in Toronto! It's like a new kind of transient, almost, and all tied up with the growth of the big organization or company."

"I think it's good for people," said Wendy's mother. "Mixes them up. Makes them meet new people, and doesn't let them get in a rut."

"And, after all, the different towns aren't so very different. Take Sharon's family. Esther will join the PTA because she belonged to it here, and was very keen on it. Bob will probably join the Edmonton branch of the same service club that he belonged to here. The same coast-to-coast food companies will have the same kind of stores and sell the same kind of goods. They'll see network shows on television. The same movies. The same magazines."

"People may move about more than they used to, Ellen. But the pattern of living is becoming more and more the same all over, so that the move from one town to another isn't the tremendous change that it was, say, fifty years ago."

"Maybe," said Ellen. "I'll save it up to think about while I'm doing dishes. You know, I do nearly all my serious thinking in the kitchen sink!"

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

That Old School Tie

LONDON—Here we go again, 30 years later...

Along with 5,000 other parents, my wife and I had been going through the common entrance ordeal—the waiting for the results of their children's exams for admission to Britain's public schools.

It seems that these days these schools are booming. Long waiting lists have piled up (boys' names are put down for a school literally at birth), and there is a lot of competition for the restricted number of places available each year.

Naturally we wanted Berkhamsted for Mac—the "old school" is of course always the best school. So there was great excitement around the Reyburn household when I got a letter from the headmaster saying that he would give him a place next term and "he looked to me as if he would fit in very well."

Almost at once there descended upon us a fat envelope containing school "literature." This included rules of the school—smoking is forbidden, no newspaper or magazine may be introduced into the school without the housemaster's approval, no walking on the grass in the school quad—unless you're a prefect, possession of explosives of any kind strictly forbidden.

And the inventory. By actual count the inventory contains 121 items and the first surprise is that the boy must take his own bed linen—sheets (4), pillowcases (3). And the next surprise is: shirts (not with collar attached) (5).

In this day and age do boys still wear shirts with studs and separate collars? Also—handkerchiefs (18). He has never owned a handkerchief in his life, having been brought up in the Kleeenex age.

My wife and I are waiting until this heat wave subsides before tackling the assembling and marking (with Cash's name tabs) of this $300 worth of inventory—regulation tweed suit (1), pairs pants (must be worn) (3), tuck box (1), rugger vests (4), sponge bag (1), grey pullovers (2), traveling rug (1), etc., etc.

But in the meantime my wife said: "I was passing Woolworths and got these." She handed me coat-hangers (with bars) (4). "It makes a start, anyway," she added.

HEAVY HIKE IN TAXES FOR MICHIGAN

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan's state legislature, deadlocked for 7½ months over the issue of new taxes, finally agreed Saturday night on a new tax program which will bring in an additional $128,500,000 a year.

Barring an unlikely snag Michigan taxpayers will start paying for it next Tuesday.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Bring in House Plants

Whether we admit it or not, the nights are becoming progressively cooler; gently reminding the gardener of the season's progress.

House plants will have enjoyed their summer spent in the garden, but it is time now to bring them again to the shelter of the house or greenhouse.

If allowed to remain until a frosty night seemed imminent, the odds are that the house heating system will be put on for that same reason. The sudden change from cool, comparatively moist outdoor air to the dry heat of the house frequently causes leaf drop on house plants.

This condition is avoided if the plants are brought in now, while there still seems a couple of weeks before we need to close windows and doors to get advantage of the artificial heat.

The pots will need washing on the outside to remove soil and the drainage hole should be inspected to be sure that it is not plugged with soil.

A tub of tepid or sun-warmed water in the garden is the most convenient place for this cleaning job. First wash the foliage of all the smooth-leaved plants in the water, then with a small piece of sacking, clean around the pots. They may stand in the water for an hour or two if by their weight they seem to lack moisture. This will ensure that the pot itself is thoroughly dampened as well as the soil contents. It will not dry out in the house during the first few days inside.

Remembering that the shock is as great on taking the plants indoors, as it was when we put them out in early summer will help the "easing in" process.

Some plants, such as the azaleas in pots for Christmas blooming, will be greatly benefited by syringings with clear water after they are indoors. A top dressing of pure peat moss will also help hold moisture in the soil.

Since our house plants gain in health from summering outdoors, it is to our advantage to continue their progress when we take them in.

ELECTION TUESDAY

Two-way Fight In P.E.I. Vote

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I.—ward Island electoral system provides for 15 councillors who are chosen by property owners, clergymen and ex-servicemen. The assemblymen are chosen by the voters eligible to the franchise under ordinary rules and the property owners.

NO DISTINCTION
In the general business of the House no distinction is made between councillors and assemblymen.

No poll lists are kept. A voter presents himself at the polling station and if he is not challenged by the returning officer or the scrutineer for either candidate, he is given a ballot to mark.

FURNITURE

CAMPAIGN QUIET
A quiet campaign raised three main issues with federal overtones.

The Conservatives, led by former civil servant Walter Shaw, advocated the building of a causeway linking Prince Edward Island to the mainland. The causeway has been a favorite issue for almost every election since Confederation.

The Tories have presented themselves as "the party of the causeway" in the present campaign.

BUILD TRADE
Matheson based his appeal to the voters on promises of developing a greater West Indian trade which would help selling farm and fisheries produce. The economy of the island is based on these two industries.

The island Conservatives point to the Tory sweeps of the four federal seats in the last two federal general elections as encouraging signs that their legislative representation will be strengthened.

The Tories were successful in the only by-election held since the provincial general election of 1955.

Both parties pledged electoral reform. The Prince Ed-

20,000 Indian Rioters Demand New State Formed

BOMBAY, India (AP)—About 20,000 persons rioted in Nagpur in central India Sunday, demanding the formation of a new state.

Nine officials, including the district magistrate of Nagpur, were slightly injured.

The Indian government last week was reported to have decided to divide Bombay state into two new states—Gujarat for some 18,000,000 Gujarati-speaking people, and Maharashtra for some 32,000,000 Marathi-speaking people.

The two groups were joined together in one state in 1956 when India's administrative divisions were reorganized. There had been a number of riots in Bombay and elsewhere over the formation of the single state.

Since the decision to divide Bombay state became known there has been considerable agitation to form another new state, Vidarbha. About 8,000,000 persons in Nagpur area want this state to be formed with Nagpur as the capital.

Their demands are based mainly on financial and social considerations. Nagpur, 420 miles east-northeast of Bombay, is an important textile trading centre for the surrounding area.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, previous liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... unblocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Cartier's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Cartier's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Cartier's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat.

Economic Pinch Of Steel Strike Growing Sharper

No Progress To Settlement After a Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The labor department says the economic effect of the first month of the U.S. steel strike, up to mid-August, was slight. But it said Saturday that the pinch is steadily growing worse.

More job layoffs and adverse economic effects will pile up, the report said, if the strike goes through a second month. The walkout started July 15. Already it is the longest steel strike since the war, except for a 59-day walkout in 1952.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, said there has been no progress toward a settlement. He has been presiding over peace talks in New York. They now are in recess until next Wednesday.

The labor department survey made public Saturday said the impact of the present strike has been relatively mild so far. The department's bureau of employment security conducted the survey in 31 steel-producing and consuming areas.

ADEQUATE SUPPLY
It said most areas reported steel supplies adequate to maintain production at approximately normal levels through mid-September. Growing and possibly serious shortages are expected after that.

The word from high officials in President Eisenhower's administration is that, in view of the still abundant steel supplies, he intends to wait at least until mid-September and possibly Oct. 1 before giving serious consideration to invoking the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law. This could result in stopping the strike for 80 days by court injunction.

The strike effects report said 126,000 workers had been made idle by mid-August in addition to the 500,000 strikers. Close to one-third of the 126,000 layoffs were in the Pittsburgh, Chicago and Cleveland areas.

Applications for federal surplus food allotments were reported rising. Welfare applications were beginning to increase sharply in the steel areas around Chicago, and in Canton and Youngstown, Ohio, and in Pittsburgh and Johnstown, Pa.

OTTAWA (CP) — Completion of one of three new bridges on the Whitehorse-Dawson Road in the Yukon was announced by the northern affairs department today. A 720-foot, $840,000 steel bridge across the Yukon River at Carmacks was opened last week. Scheduled for completion next year are two other bridges spanning the Pelly and Stewart Rivers.

7 ENJOY DIGNITY, CIVIL SERVANTS TOLD

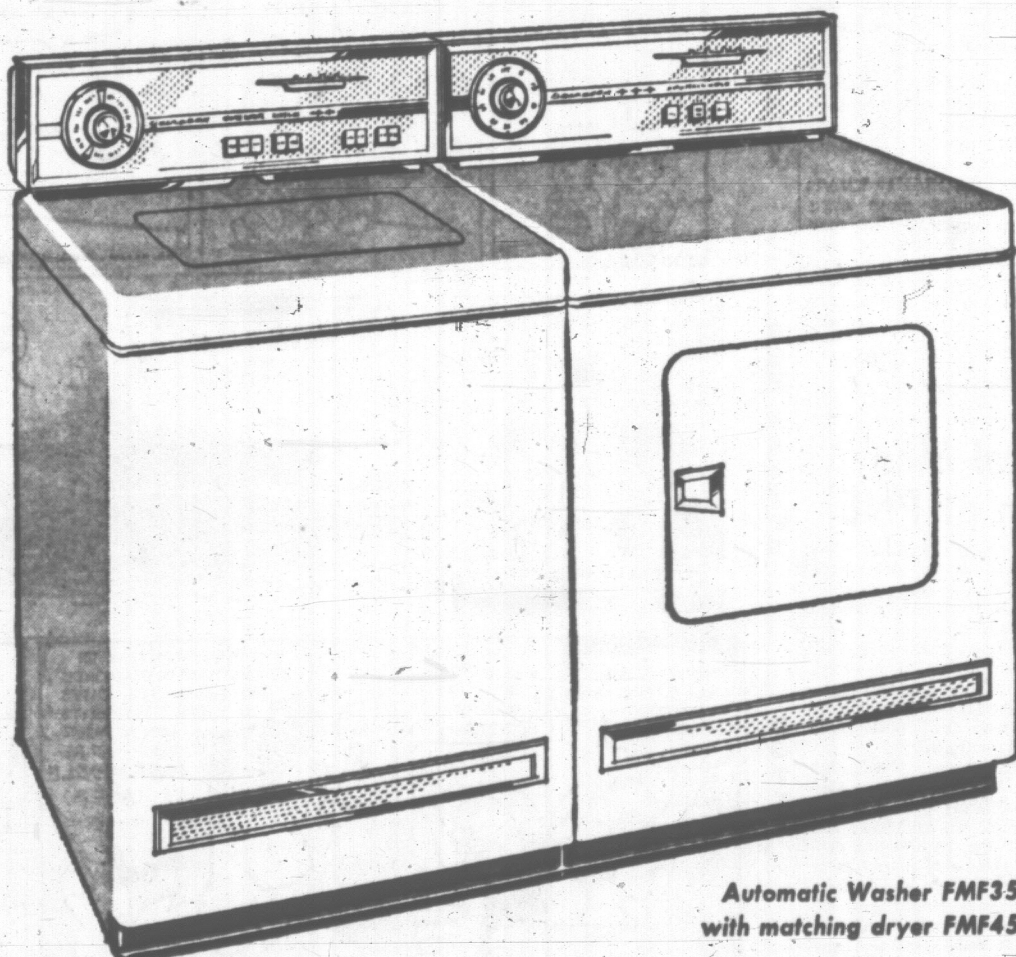

Automation 'No Cause for Alarm'

HALIFAX (UPI) — F. W. Whitehouse, president of the Civil Service Federation of Canada, today said there was no cause for alarm that automation was moving into the office. Whitehouse told the opening session of the federation's tri-annual convention that he hoped "civil servants will be educated well in advance to its benefits" in order that they may enjoy and not fear the day "when the dignity of man-kind is elevated above the performance of menial tasks." Some 350 delegates representing 82,000 civil servants are attending the convention.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.
Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.
The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.
Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.
Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Eddy Smith, aged 13, of Visalia, Calif., for the question:

What is a Geode?

Nature's beautiful jewel crystals. Sometimes these stones are always well hidden. Diamonds are buried in the blue rock which fills the vents of ancient volcanoes. Tons of earth are sifted to find one ruby or emerald. Mother Nature, it seems, likes to play hide and seek. But of all her hiding places, none is quite so clever as the geode.
Actually, it is a little pocket of common rock inside which may be a cluster of crystals or semiprecious stones. You might mistake it for a pebble, step on it or walk right past, never guessing its secret. If you picked it up, you would find it to weigh less than it should. This is because a geode is partly or entirely hollow. In fact, the common rock on the outside is merely a shell. It may look like a pebble of milky white quartz. But if you break it open, you might find that the inside walls are lined with glassy crystals. Sometimes these crystals are deep violet amethyst, dark enough to be cut as precious gems. Or the crystals in a quartz geode may be smoky grey, rosy pink or clear as glass.
Geodes are also found in softer calcite rocks. Here, too, the crystals may be clear or tinted with pastel colors. And sometimes a geode is partly filled with bands of beautifully colored agate. Other geodes are merely lined with a papery film of copper or opal. Small geodes measure just a few inches, large ones measure several feet.
These stony, jewel filled pockets are made by seeping water and the process takes ages of time. The pocket begins as a hole in the solid rock. Perhaps a harder stone was dislodged as the rock bed was forming. The hole is left like a bubble in the surrounding solid rock.
Take Time to Settle
Time passes and water seeps through the pores of the rock. It moves slowly, dissolving minerals and chemicals as it goes. It reaches the hidden pocket and clings to the inside walls. Its chemicals settle and they have all the time in the world to do so. When minerals have plenty of time to settle, they arrange themselves in the shapes most natural to them. Very often they become crystals, tinted with impurities in the water. Amethyst is quartz crystal tinted with traces of manganese. Rose quartz crystal is tinted with titanium. Sometimes the chemicals settle in hard bands of various colors and we have a geode of agate.

HOW BIG DID YOU SAY? —YOUR PLUG, MISTER!

HOPE (CP)—Fisherman Harold Hall reports he met another fisherman who told him of a large steelhead trout—at least 10 pounds, the man said—which swam off with the fisherman's plug in the Coghalla River near here. Before he could go further, Hall produced a just-caught steelhead with the plug in its mouth. Weight: 4½ pounds.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Gwen Verdon had just moved into a lushly terraced penthouse high over Central Park West which in the good old days was William Randolph Hearst's and recently was Charles Van Doren's.

"Did you find any of Van Doren's old quiz questions?" I eagerly asked Gwen.

"No," answered Gwen, with a slight smile, "but I found out that he was so brilliant that every-day living escaped him."

To explain that, Gwen had to sit down. She had followed the modern admonition for apartment hunters, "Go West Side, young woman, go West Side," and had been flimflaming about in the moving mess—with one foot bandaged because a sprain had put her out of "Redhead" for a week.

"He did wiring which had to come out or I'd have been electrocuted," Gwen said, putting the bandaged foot up on a coffee table.

"Where he'd taken pictures down, he'd left open wiring. Even I know you're supposed to cover it up with tape."

But with a laugh, Gwen said maybe Van Doren hadn't done this himself, maybe it was somebody else who had meant to electrocute her—then she hobbled out onto the tremendous terrace where she would have built a Hollywood-type swimming pool in the sky, except that the weight of the water might have brought a cloudburst on a couple hundred other tenants below.

The dedicated little dynamo who attained this luxury just by taking dancing lessons was showing it all off for the first time.

"I'm having an Italian tent here—and awning there—some trees will be moved in there."

Gwen'll be looked after by a devoted Negro maid who's so shy that she crawled out a window from a bedroom onto the terrace to avoid coming through the living room when I was there.

"I always have to tell my guests not to sit too long," Gwen said, "or she'll scrub them with a Brillo pad. She cleans everything!"

TRAILING but still in the race is the Duke of Edinburgh's Dragon class yacht Bluebottle shown in one of five races this weekend. The 12-year-old boat placed fifth overall against her newer rivals in the total point series. Series winner was Bob Burgess of Vancouver and second place went to Victoria sailor Jorgen Baess. (Times Photo by Svendsen.)

DUKE'S CRAFT FINISHES FIFTH Vancouver Yacht Winner

Vancouver Dragon sailor Bob Burgess sailing Tjep won the weekend five race series at Royal Victoria Yacht Club ahead of Victoria and Vancouver boats and the Duke of Edinburgh's Bluebottle, which placed fifth.

A member of the West Vancouver Yacht Club, he placed first, second and third in three of the races to finish ahead of Victoria's Two-Bits skippered by Jorgen Baess and Cam, skippered by Jack Sheppard in total point standings.

Fourth boat in the series was Newport, California, Bangalore III owned by Joe Hayes and skippered by Eddie Fink.

The Duke's yacht Bluebottle finished the weekend in fifth place after placing sixth, first, ninth, sixth and fifth in the five races.

Complete results are: Race 1: Bob Burgess in Tjep, Joe Hayes in Bangalore III, Don Blair in Whitecap. Race 2: Bluebottle skippered by Surgeon-Lieut. Ross Coles, Jorgen Baess' Two-Bits II, Tjep. Race 3: US 24 with Art Armstrong, Jack Sheppard's Cam, Two-Bits II. Race 4: Cam, Tjep, Bangalore III. Race 5: Two-Bits II, Bangalore III, Cam.

At the start of the last race any one of the four leading boats could have won the series and a thrilling finish saw Baess' Two-Bits II win by six feet from the Newport yacht after a race of 10 miles.

Most of the 16 boats competing will haul out and clean sides and bottoms this week in preparation for the Labor Day regatta at Maple Bay Saturday and Sunday.

Blast Kills Miners Pathetic 'Coup de Grace'

By MURRAY FROMSON

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—In 1929 Sidney Franklin's mother asked him to give up bullfighting. He agreed.

On Sunday he kept his promise.

He made his farewell appearance as a bullfighter—and it was an inglorious end to three decades as the best-known U.S. matador in the bullrings of Spain and Latin America.

One bull knocked the 56-year-old Franklin down in the ring at this border city south of San Diego, Calif. His foot was injured. Franklin couldn't kill his second bull. A Mexican bullfighter dispatched it.

Franklin took to bullfighting while studying art in Mexico. It started with a dare. Told no American had ever succeeded before, he said:

"If you've got guts, you can do anything."

His career brought him fame and fortune. Bullfighting experts regarded him as the only successful American matador in history.

Franklin's career began in earnest at Seville, Spain, where the Spaniards took the brash red-haired American to their hearts.

Once he killed six bulls in an afternoon. The excitement caused a bullfighter in the stands to die of a heart attack.

Franklin estimated he killed more than 2,000 bulls and earned several million dollars in his career.

The bullfighter from Brooklyn once recalled how doubtful he was when he entered the ring at Seville:

"I stood there and wondered. Should I take a taxi back to Madrid, or should I kill the bull before he kills me?"

"My decision is history."

Last Bun Gone, Rescuers Came

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Roy Chappel, 60, told from a hospital bed Sunday night how he spent three weeks roaming through rain-soaked bush country, splitting his wooden leg and injuring his good one, before he was rescued earlier in the day by an RCAF search party.

Chappel went into the bush 50 miles east of here Aug. 7 to take a six-mile shortcut to Grizzly Lake where he intended to set up a fishing camp.

He reached the lake in eight days, longer than he had planned. It was pouring with rain and he was unable to do much work on the camp, so he started back. He missed his trail and was lost.

Peter Corbionier, owner of a plateau sheep ranch from which Chappel started out, reported the one-legged fisherman missing when he failed to return within eight days.

SAW SEARCH PLANES

After RCMP ground parties found no sign of the missing man, the RCAF started searching from the air. Chappel said the planes flew over him several times, but he was unable to attract the attention of the pilots and they could not see him because of the dense bush.

On Friday Chappel ate his second last piece of food—a bun. On Saturday he was sighted by a search plane. On Sunday a helicopter landed two miles away and an RCAF party led him to the plane and flew him here.

Sitting up in a comfortable hospital bed, Chappel spoke cheerfully of his ordeal from the time when he knew he was lost.

"I sat on this ridge and watched the rain pelt down and knew that I'd have to get out all by myself," he said. "I thought I would make it, but I didn't know when."

It rained on 17 of the 22 days he tramped through the muskeg and swamp.

WIRED LEG

While tramping through the rugged bush country he split his wooden leg and had to bind it together with wire before he could continue. Then he lost his compass.

"When I got to the creek bank I slipped and skinned my good knee pretty bad. It hurt so much I couldn't move and was forced to stay in a little ridge above the creek for eight days."

INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION means wise use of fishery resources
Canada has been a pioneer in the establishment of international commissions, the aims of which are to conserve and develop stocks of fish, sustaining their productive level whenever this is threatened by natural and human causes.
This country is a party to three bilateral fishery agreements with our neighbor to the south, and is also a member of four international conventions which include other countries in addition to the United States.
Fish populations renew themselves if given the chance. The purpose of international co-operation is to make sure that they are given this chance... through practical programmes of scientific research and by common sense fisheries regulations.

Cowichan, Oak Bay Gain Final

No questions remained to be answered Saturday as to which two teams deserved to be finalists in the Victoria and District Cricket League knockout competition.

Both Oak Bay and Cowichan swept to victory in their semi-final matches, Oak Bay whipping Incogs by five wickets and Cowichan steam-rolling the Alcos by 10 wickets.

In the Cowichan win at Beacon Hill Park, Alcos managed only 19 runs all out when the winners came to bat.

Reg Wenman started Incogs out well in their Windsor Park match against Oak Bay, batting up 39 runs. But their attack stalled there and the side was nine wickets down for just 89 runs when Oak Bay took over.

Alan Wright paced the Oak Bay victory with 58 of their 91 runs.

Funeral Set Tuesday for BCE Veteran

(From Duncan Bureau)
Funeral services will be held in Vancouver Tuesday at 2 p.m. for James Harrison Wharmby, 83, who died at King's Daughters' Hospital last week.

Born in Manchester, England, he arrived in Nanaimo at the age of 23, and was a resident of Vancouver for 58 years, retiring in 1948 as superintendent of gas distribution for the B.C. Electric. For the past two years he had been a resident of Duncan.

He was a member of Mt. Herman Lodge No. 7, AF & AM, and the B.C. Electric OAP.

He is survived by the widow, Clara; a son, Edgar, and a daughter, Mrs. W. Johnstone, of Vancouver; one grandson, and a sister in Manchester.

Interment will be in the family plot at the Masonic Cemetery, Burnaby. First Funeral Chapel, Duncan, is handling arrangements.

The fire, first believed to be under the B.C. Electric power line to Victoria, was sighted by Alec Frew of the forest service Mount Prevost lookout at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Access to the fire was gained over P. F. Enright's Gibbins Road property.

Two bulldozers and operators Mac Aitken and W. N. Mattin, both of Duncan, cut a track to the west of the fire to confine it in the west bank of a turn in the Cowichan River.

A forest service suppression crew pumped water from the river to fight the blaze.

The trouble is thought to have been started by picnickers.

Also blamed on picnickers was a fire on Gossip Island, east of Galiano Island, reported on the weekend. Ranger L. Lorentsen and his assistant, H. Doerksen, attended from Salt Spring Island to find Ross Parmenter, honorary fire warden, had it under control.

Burglars Escape With Good Stock Of Sports Goods

Newsman Hurt As Car Hits Phone Pole

(From Duncan Bureau)

A well-known news reporter of Duncan and district was taken to King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday for treatment of injuries suffered in a car accident.

Peter Allen, Duncan correspondent of the Nanaimo Free Press, was knocked unconscious when the left side of his car struck a telephone pole on Trunk Road.

He is reported in "improved condition" today. His vehicle apparently had gone into a skid on the wet surface when he made a turn in the road near the Marchmont Street intersection.

50 Rest Homes For Aged Here Not Licenced

There are at least 50 rest homes for elderly persons operating in Greater Victoria without provincial licences or adequate supervision, it was charged here today.

A member of the B.C. Rest Homes Association of Vancouver Island, and a former president of the organization, Mrs. M. E. Brisbin, said all a person has to do to start operating a rest home "is to get a rooming house licence at the city hall."

"The welfare people seem indifferent to the whole affair," she stated.

VISITS ERRATIC

"Much more supervision is needed. Anything can happen to the old people in some of these places," she said.

Even in the licenced rest homes, supervision by the government was "inadequate. She described visits as "erratic."

"We come under city welfare, but a social worker comes around only now and again, for some specific reason. I know they are overworked but still . . .

"There should be no unlicensed places," said Mrs. Brisbin.

In asking for more official interest in operation of legitimate rest homes, she said also that occupational therapy was badly needed.

"Elderly persons must have an interest in something. Even if more persons telephoned and asked if they could take some of the elderly for a drive, it would be greatly appreciated."

Ages of rest home dwellers range from 70 to over 90.

WIDE COST SPREAD

Mrs. Brisbin said for welfare cases, the government paid $85 a month to the rest home operator, while it paid $185 a month for bed patients in private hospitals.

There are about 20 licenced rest homes in the association, and a meeting on the problem is scheduled for tonight.

City welfare administrator William Hooson said there was going to be a "revamping" of the present licensing procedure.

But he explained it was difficult to determine always just which rest homes were meeting government requirements in all respects.

Under present government regulations, a welfare institution or rest home must be licenced if more than one old aged pensioner is housed.

PENSIONERS KEPT OUT

"But there are a good many rest homes operating who do not take in old aged pensioners, and make a point of this," he said.

Thus there could be old aged pensioners in non-licenced rest homes which makes the situation "difficult to pick up."

However, he said, while there was no government check of the patients themselves in rest homes without licences, city health and other inspectors made regular visits to the establishments.

He termed the present situation "confusing."

AUGUST ENDS ON DULL NOTE

Skies were expected to clear tonight just in time to let August avoid leaving under a cloud, the weatherman said today.

Up to 11 a.m. today rainfall total was 18 inch, and more is expected by Tuesday night with the onset of a storm now in the Gulf of Alaska.

Genial Host, Well Known Here, Dead

T. Karl DeMorest, well-known former British Columbia hotelman, died in Civic Hospital in Ottawa Saturday, friends here were advised today.

Mr. DeMorest had recently suffered a heart attack. He was 62 years of age.

A native of Sudbury, Mr. DeMorest was for many years with the CPR hotel organization and was at one time assistant manager of the old Hotel Vancouver.

He also served as manager of the Devonshire Hotel in Vancouver and, for a brief period in the early war years, as manager of the Sonoma Hotel in Port Alberni.

In 1942 he went to Ottawa and became resident manager and part owner of the Lord Elgin Hotel, retiring in 1958. He was associated in an executive capacity with the John C. Udd group of hotels which subsequently were sold into the Sheraton chain in Canada.

Mr. DeMorest served in the First World War, losing a leg in action a week before the signing of the Armistice.

A keen sportsman, he was one of the founders of the "Breakfast Club" in Vancouver, which promoted Canadian football. In latter years he had been active in fishing and boating at his summer place at Grand Lake in the Gatineau hills.

Mr. DeMorest is survived by his widow, Jean, and son John, both resident at the Lord Elgin Hotel in Ottawa. The funeral will be held in Ottawa Tuesday.

Closed Down Early, Show Lost Money

A carnival game operator whose tent was burned in a wave of violence at Mid West Shows at the curling rink Saturday night "got what was coming to him," an unidentified member of the midway said before leaving Victoria.

The carnival site erupted into a melee of shouting, knife-wielding and looting by teen-aged "hoodlums" at 9:20 p.m. after one of their number fought with a game operator Friday night and is alleged to have put a paper match "bomb" beside the operator's tent to start the $1,500 blaze.

A few minutes later a 17-year-old Langford boy was found lying on rocks behind the carnival with a gash on the head, claiming to have been struck down by a gang of short men.

TIRES SLASHED

Saturday's gang attack followed a wave of tire slashing of cars parked next to the curling rink, which police associate with the later incidents.

Despite the violence, Chief Constable John Blackstock said he received no complaints whatsoever of "crooked" games or unethical behavior by members of the show.

He said Hugh Davis, manager of Mid West Shows, is a "square shooter. He did his level best to run a good show. But he can't be every place at once."

After the outbreak Saturday, Chief Blackstock ordered the carnival to shut down at 10 p.m. instead of midnight.

Today Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood, chairman of Greater Victoria Celebrations Association which sponsored the show, said the early shutdown lost the association an estimated $500 in revenue.

"However, I think the police did the right thing in shutting it down," he added.

Investigation of the fire is under way by city detectives. The trouble was alleged to have started in a dispute with Jesse Campbell, operator of a 25-cent ring toss game, who had trouble with a teen-ager Friday night over the winning of a wrist watch prize.

There was an argument, and Campbell jumped out of his stall and fought with the youth. The tire slashing was reported to police later that night.

Frank Stokes, proprietor of the Gypsy tent, which housed the ring toss game as well, and was completely destroyed, told police he saw a group of youths in a customized car. They had threatened trouble and mentioned burning down the tent, he said.

A short time earlier, the operator of an adjacent tent had spotted a matchbook with lighted cigaret inserted burning against the canvas, and he put it out before there was damage.

The second attempt was a success.

PRIZES LOOTED

When the blaze started, groups of youths carrying short pieces of pipe and knives were seen lurking about and they were joined by others who looted carnival prizes of watches, teddy bears, lamps and kewpie dolls.

Joseph Wright, celebrations committee vice-chairman, said the loss from fire damage would be borne by the carnival.

ASK The TIMES

Q./Would you please inform me as to whether the television program "Divorce Court" is live or if the people are just acting? R. O'N.

A. The lawyers on your screen are practising lawyers, hired for the TV programs, but the other parties involved are actors and actresses. However, the show is based on reproductions of legitimate divorce court proceedings.

Q. Would you please tell me where I could write to get plans for a Go-Kart? R.I. A. Contact Frank Grant, 1666 McRae.

Saanich Girl Thrilled With Top PNE Prize

A 16-year-old Saanich girl who won the grand aggregate championship in stock judging at the PNE Saturday, said today she doesn't understand how she came first in the contest.

"I didn't think for a moment that I stood a chance against people of my own age whose parents own some of the best farms in the province," said Karen Cronk, 4316 Blenkinsop Road. "I just don't know how it happened."

Karen, a member of the Sooke-Sidney-Saanich 4-H Beef Club, won the Pym Trophy, the top PNE award for young farm people of the province.

She is a student of Mount Douglas High School and has been in 4-H club work for the past three years.

Her club, composed of Robert Allan, Royal Oak; Albert and Garry Hull, Langford; and Ruth McDonald, Saanichton, placed second in the contest. They each will receive a silver medal.

HIGHEST POSSIBLE Canadian figure skating award, the Canadian Gold Medal, was won Sunday in Vancouver by Maralee Rutley of Victoria Figure Skating Club. She is now qualified to teach figure skating anywhere in the world. Miss Rutley won her prize in trials sponsored by the B.C. Figure Skating Association.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today that no word has been received yet from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on whether the federal government would pay a $150,000 subsidy to keep the CPR Victoria-Vancouver ferry service operating this winter. The prime minister promised a decision this week.

Winners follow of the weekly tournament, Victoria unit, American Contract Bridge League.

Irene Abels and George Metcalfe; Eric Goodwin and Otto Leeson; Albert Jorgensen and Stan Trickey; Ethel Cleworth and Dorothy McConnell; Mr. and Mrs. J. McAvoy.

N. W. Hollett, 54, hurt in Chemainus Friday when a tire exploded, was brought to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday for treatment of a fractured skull, and today was reported in satisfactory condition.

Mr. Hollett, part owner with his son of a tire business, was removing a tire from a grader on Trans-Canada Highway by prying a steel rim from the wheel. Suddenly the tube exploded and the rim struck him on the face. He was taken to Chemainus General Hospital for treatment before coming here.

Construction of a new $10,000 swimming pool at the Fort Street quarters of the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club will begin late in September, club president Jim McArthur announced this week-end.

Handling the construction of the proposed 60 by 26-foot pool will be W. Trace Ltd., under the direction of Fred Greenidge, manager of the swimming pool division.

City public works committee meets Tuesday at 9.15 a.m.

A public meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort.

Speaker will be former principal of Theological College, Dayton, Ohio, Rev. Robert Thornton, who is at present on a tour of Canada for the Canadian British-Israel Association.

A Victoria woman who had been holidaying at Savary Island, in Georgia Strait north of Powell River, was found drowned Saturday between Savary and Cortes Islands.

She was said to have fallen from a pleasure boat while fishing. According to RCMP, the death was accidental. Police are withholding her identity pending their notification of the death.

A useful "lift" to winter employment will be given in September when B.C. Electric underground wiring work resumes.

About 60 men will be employed on the project.

Work will be at the following locations: East side of Douglas from Cormorant to Herald; east side of Government from View to Herald; west side of Douglas from View to Yates; east side of Broad from View to Pandora; south side of Johnson from Broad to Douglas; south side of Yates from Government to Douglas; and north side of Humboldt from Government to Gordon.

Youth, Girl Hurt On Motorcycle In Malahat Crash

A Victoria youth and girl were injured Sunday evening when the motorcycle on which they were riding was in collision with a car on the north slope of the Malahat, not far from Mill Bay.

In good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital, and undergoing treatment for head, face and leg injuries, is Charles Keay, 19, of 206 Niagara, driver of the motorbike.

His passenger, Maureen Ashe, 16, of 860 Parklands, was discharged after treatment of an injured thigh.

According to reports, the accident occurred at 7.15 p.m. when the motorcycle, proceeding north, suddenly made a U-turn in front of a northbound car driven by Merl F. Musselman, Lynden, Wash.

He applied his brakes, but crashed into the motorcycle and pitched it to the ground. Keay and Miss Ashe were thrown clear, and Musselman's car was forced across the road.

Area Schools Must Take In 1,400 More

Some 25,850 pupils will troop back to 69 schools from Sidney to Sooke a week from Tuesday.

That will be an increase of about 1,400, mainly in School District 61 (Greater Victoria) and School District 62 (Sooke) for this year are 2,550 and 2,300 respectively, compared with 2,340 and 2,100 last year.

All the classrooms in the three school districts will have teachers, a total of 959 compared with 907 last year. Greater Victoria has added 40, Saanich seven and Sooke five to meet the pupil increase.

Forecast enrolments in School District 63 (Saanich) and School District 62 (Sooke) for this year are 2,550 and 2,300 respectively, compared with 2,340 and 2,100 last year.

All the classrooms in the three school districts will have teachers, a total of 959 compared with 907 last year.

Greater Victoria has added 40, Saanich seven and Sooke five to meet the pupil increase.

Belmont High School students register Thursday and Friday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the school. Children who are entering the new Elizabeth Fisher Junior High School also will register at nearby Belmont.

The new high school's scheduled opening for the fall term has been delayed by the woodworkers' strike and classes will be distributed among other schools.

WINDMILL BUILT

Picturesque Netherlands Feature Here

By TONY DICKASON

The Duyvestyn family from Holland now have their own windmill.

It started beating the air in the front yard of 3020 Quadra over the weekend.

The windmill, though not exactly a miniature model, is of course far from full size. The structure is about eight feet high with the "sails" extending about 15 feet into the air.

Builder was Willem Van Kampen, father of Mrs. Alfons Duyvestyn, who arrived in Canada to be with his family last November.

It took him 2½ months to complete, and is a replica in detail of the big mills in Holland used to pump out water from reclaimed land.

Building the windmill was a hobby for Mr. Van Kampen, 63, and really no trouble. He was a contractor in his homeland.

Windmills aren't built in Holland any more, but those that have been erected over the centuries are carefully preserved, the family recalled.

A wheel turns the top of the tower, to which sails are attached, to catch the wind.

Actually, the rural atmosphere of windmill-land is more apparent here than in Holland to the family, who can see their own creation through the front window.

They all come from the populous capital, The Hague.

Exquisite Hand Knits Make Lovely Baby Gifts

By PENNY SAVER

The beauty of soft hand-knits for babies! Of all gifts, these seem to be the most delightful—especially for the giver. Like most modern women, you probably just haven't the time to spend on delicate knitting, especially the painstaking fussy, complicated knitting needed for baby things. But there are women here who do beautiful infant clothes. A shop in central downtown gets you (Mrs. Shopper, who wants a baby gift) and the expert hand-knitter together.

I visited the shop today, and was amazed at the exquisite work only human skill and patience and very deft hands can produce. There were lace, filigree-stitched shawls (for around $12). All sizes, colors and patterns of baby sweaters—right up to bulky out-door types for older moppets.

Hand-knit tams make a perfect "just-a-little-bit-different" gift. They give the small boy a perky and jaunty air (and keep that little head good and warm.) Price is right for a small gift—$1.95.

Shop carries other items too. Another "perfect" for the baby shower is a little set of a baby towel (extra large) wash cloth, pinned with four plastic-headed safety diaper pins, and a telephone receiver rattle to match. Set is done up prettily in cellophane—to make a welcome gift. It costs $2.95.

For the older baby up to two years a perfect bib is here. It's "erry cloth lined with plastic. Difference, comes in clown sleeves in red and white candy stripes. Pocket all around bottom of bib catches stray crumbs, cookies. Hand-applied clown face grins from front. Price is $2.25.

Exquisite feather-stitch orlon christening shawls made in Belgium are here. They cost $10.

Model Filing Box Holds Gifts

Amusing idea was used for gift container at a shower held recently for the former Lily Primrose whose wedding took place Saturday. A model file box was indexed with the initials of "Lily Primrose." Gifts were small "pantry shelf" items.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Millard and Mrs. E. Faulks. Guests also gave the bride a china figurine. Corsages were presented to the honor guest and her mother, Mrs. M. Primrose. Guests were Mrs. B. Daner, Mrs. W. Mathewson, Mrs. Y. Raper, Mrs. R. Moir, Mrs. V. Merriman, Mrs. D. Rawlinson, Mrs. V. Huntley, Mrs. D. Buckett, Mrs. T. Regan, Mrs. J. Savage, Mrs. I. Richardson, Mrs. M. Miller, Mrs. P. Hanna, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. A. Davis, Mrs. D. Turner, Mrs. J. Westaway, Mrs. M. Sondergaard, Mrs. M. Stapleton, Mrs. L. Camosun Chapter's 50th Birthday

Celebrating its 50th anniversary this week is Camosun Chapter, IOOE, the oldest chapter in Victoria. Friday, members will mark the occasion at a tea to be given in the Hudson's Bay Douglas Room. Mrs. J. Kippen, who for 47 years has been an active member of the chapter, will cut the birthday cake. Mrs. O. P. Fowler, municipal regent, will open the affair. Receiving guests will be Mrs. J. R. Campbell. There will be a teacup reading, contests and stall of miscellaneous articles for sale.

LOUISE DAVIS

ON ETIQUETTE

Double dating diners:

When my girl and I and another couple go to a restaurant for dinner, how should we be seated?

Louise Davis answers:

It really doesn't matter how you seat yourselves. You would naturally expect your girl to sit at one side of you, rather than across the table. If you wish to be ultra correct, your girl would sit at your right. Opposite you would be the other man, and around the corner would be his girl.

Cake cutting:

When a wedding cake is cut, shouldn't the bridegroom put his hand on top of the bride's? I have been to three wedding receptions lately where this was not done, and I was surprised. Is the custom no longer in vogue?

Louise Davis answers:

Traditionally, the bride does the cutting, so it is considered correct. However, it is just as acceptable for the two to cut the cake together. Personally, I like it that way. To me, it is a sort of symbol of lending each other a hand through life, and is a nice way of silently declaring it.

Gift Cards:

When one sends a gift and puts a little card in it, should one write the recipient's name on the envelope or leave it blank? Should the envelope flap be sealed?

Louise Davis answers:

The writing of the name on the envelope is optional. The name on the outside of the package indicates who is to receive it. There is no point in sealing the envelope.

A Drab Housewife Loses Touch

The woman who places the furnishings of her home far in advance of her own appearance is making a mistake. For one day her family will be unable to distinguish her from the draperies.

It's true that homemaking and everything that goes into it is important. Good food, a pleasant background and comfort make living something a little special. But the woman who would invariably prefer a new slipcover to a new dress or a new electrical appliance to a good permanent had better check up on herself.

An appraising, critical glance in a full-length mirror may give her some shocking answers. It may show her that she has become drab in a lovely setting that she created. And if she has, chances are her family will regard her as a combination maid and cook.

This doesn't mean that from then on she need spend all of her time and money in beauty parlors. But it does mean that she had better divert a part of her time and money to herself.

NEW SHADE

Some women are devoted to a certain lipstick shade. By experimentation, they have found that it's the shade that does the most for them. So they wear it year after year, comfortable in the knowledge that it is flattering.

And they fail to find out that trying out a new shade, even if they don't stay with it, can be a real lift to the spirits. It's something like buying a new hat or trying out a new hairdo. It will bring comments for good or bad which show that people notice what you wear.

It will also make you feel that you are being just a bit daring. And this is all to the good.

SAGGING SKIN

Many women are puzzled about how to care for their skin while they're dieting.

The answer to this problem of crepey or sagging skin lies in a good moisture cream used nightly with an upward and outward motion. Apply the cream with your fingertips, and remember that in using a lightly massaging motion, you are getting far more from your cream. Simply slapping it on is better than nothing at all but not as helpful as it could be. Make sure that the care is every single night without fail.

Your day should also include neck exercises and a good, brisk walk with head held high. In a short time, the crepeiness will begin to vanish if you're faithful in your care.

DEAR ABBY...

Stop That Snoring!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to snore so loud it almost broke up our marriage. A neighbor of mine told me she had the same trouble with her husband and this is how she solved her problem: She took a plain ordinary gauze bandage (about three inches wide) and she tied his mouth shut. As long as a person's mouth is closed he can't snore. I have been doing this for about four years now and it works very well. I can't sign my name because I promised my husband I wouldn't tell anybody, so if you use this letter, just sign it.

"FIVE FOOT TWO"

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the wife whose husband's snoring annoyed her: Tell her to sew a large empty spool on the back of his pajama tops. Sew it right in the middle of the back, between the shoulder blades. If he happens to turn over on his back, this spool will remind him to turn over on his side. When he turns on his side, he will quit snoring. Thank you.

EVA

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman who used to snore so loud that nobody could believe it! Before I was married it caused me a lot of embarrassment because everywhere I'd go—in hotels or on overnight train trips, everyone thought I had a man in there with me.

I even went to a doctor to see if something could be done. I got no help. Finally, someone told me that snoring was caused by sleeping with the mouth open. That gave me an idea.

I bought some adhesive tape, and taped my mouth closed one night. My husband, who had been sleeping in another room, promised to stay with me all night to see if it worked. He said it was a miracle! I didn't make a sound. Since then, I've been taping my mouth closed every night, and I haven't snored since. PROBLEM SOLVED

DEAR ABBY: I don't care what anybody says, there is NO cure for snoring.

I married a man who can win a prize as the world's loudest snorer. He can snore in ANY position—on his back, on either side, or on his face. I simply made up my mind that I wasn't going to let it bother me. When he starts to snore I just pretend that he is "singing" to me and I go right to sleep.

Now if I don't hear him snoring, I can't go to sleep because I know that he is working.

ried about something or he isn't feeling well.

Sincerely yours,
CLINT'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: What's all this jazz about a wife complaining because her husband snores at night? At least she knows where he is.

STUCK WITH THE KIDS

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will pass this sure-cure recipe for snoring on to that woman whose husband snored so bad. Before retiring, fix him a "snack" of yogurt (one cup) mixed with one raw egg and a heaping teaspoon of wheat germ (you can buy it in any health food store). Add a pinch of dry mustard and about half a cup of finely chopped raw fish (any kind of fish will do, but remove the bones first). It is delicious and is guaranteed to cure snoring. I have tried it and it works!

MRS. R. M. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: It is no wonder your husband does not snore. After this "snack," Who could sleep?

For ABBY's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to this paper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SAVORY COD FILLETS

One and one-half pounds cod fillets, 2 teaspoons finely chopped shallots or green onions, 2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley, 2 teaspoons finely chopped chives, 1 teaspoon finely chopped tarragon or fresh mint, 1 cup dry white wine, 2 slices lemon, 3 tablespoons butter and 3 tablespoons coarse enriched bread or cracker crumbs.

Place the cod fillets in a well-greased baking dish and season with salt and pepper. Mix together chopped shallots, parsley, chives and tarragon; sprinkle over the fish. Pour on wine; place lemon slices in dish. Dot the surface with butter. Cover with tight-fitting lid. Bake in a hot oven preheated to 400 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Remove cover and bake another 5 minutes. Place fish on serving platter and set aside to keep warm. Pour liquid from baking dish into a saucepan; add crumbs, bring to boil. Lower heat and simmer for 3 or 4 minutes. Pour sauce over fish and serve. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

One and one-half cup lemon juice and 1/2 cup water may be substituted for the wine, if preferred.

Getting that itch-all-over feeling after a bath is no fun. Often it is caused by using too much soap, taking too many hot baths or dry air. Adding starch or bicarbonate of soda to bath water helps, as does frequent use of lotions.

A facial massage stimulates the skin and can help tighten facial muscles. Such a massage does its best work when done gently, stroking upward and outward. Vigorous rubbing helps hasten sagging skin that is already losing its tone.

Over a Thousand Dollars Raised At Woodwynn Farm Garden Party

Over $1,000 was raised Saturday afternoon at the annual Saanich Division Girl Guide garden party at Woodwynn Farm. Sunny skies and the perfect country setting combined to make the party the most successful yet. A record 900 attended.

Proceeds will all be used for work on the Guide and Brownie Lodge at Kingswood Camp, Elk Lake.

Outstanding event of the afternoon was a fashion show. Models posed against the French doors of the Woodward home, and paraded along the flower bordered patio, as guests watched from the lawns.

Heavy blush cream satin.

Bar Convention

Many Victoria lawyers and their wives travelled to Vancouver today to attend the 41st annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association. The convention runs this week until Saturday. An extensive entertainment program including coffee parties, cocktail parties, luncheons, dinners, garden tours, receptions and balls is planned.

Visit Family

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Menzies have returned to Victoria after visiting their son-in-law and daughter, FO and Mrs. Calvin J. Foss, in Rivers, Man. FO and Mrs. Foss recently returned from Germany where they have been living for the past three years. Mrs. Foss accompanied her parents back to Victoria and will spend a short holiday here.

sweeping to floor-length was one of the beautiful evening dresses shown. The moulded bodice was shaped by diagonal tucks under the bust which were caught at the waist by a wreath of self rosebuds, marking the fitted waistline of the gown. The skirt was exquisitely shaped. A natural pastel pink stole topped the gown modelled by Kay Rogers.

In the furs shown, news was the "flapper frill" — a soft gathered band along the hem of a stole — designed in mink by Sciaparelli. It was shown over a jewel-green gown worn by Mary Rawnsley. A chin-chilla fur was also in the collection.

Afternoon fashions, coats and early evening ensembles were also shown. Doris Usher modelled a Dior blue boucle coat with a silver fox collar. The coat topped a simple, softly draped afternoon dress in a light Blin and Blin fabric in a darker tone of blue.

Fashions were from Mallek's Limited, with hats and imported French flowers from To-day's Ladies' Accessories. The other models were Trudy Jones, Doris Gilbert, Mrs. A. J. Bird, Jo Altkens and Shirley Feldman. Commentator was Eleanor Mollet.

Throughout the afternoon tea was served on the front gardens. Food was made and served by the Guides of the division. General organizing of the tea was by Mrs. W. French, Mrs. H. Cross and Mrs. T. Cook.

Co-conveners for the garden party were Mrs. James T. McKevitt and Mrs. H. L. Greenwood. Mrs. Fred Wilkes came from Vancouver to open the affair. She is provincial Guide commissioner.

In charge of stalls were: Green thumb, North Saanich group, Mrs. B. L. McLeod and Mrs. F. A. Moulton; play area, Mrs. W. Colbert and Sea-Lake group; white elephant and novelties, Mrs. R. Baldock, Marigold-Glanford group; home cooking and candy, Mrs. Freeman King and the Till-cum, Colquitz, Gorge View group; ice cream, Mrs. H. D. McLean and the Sea Rangers.

Christians Work Hard In Japan

CALGARY (CP)—A young, pretty Japanese Anglican missionary said here that Christians must work hard to gain the confidence of the Japanese, who are mostly Buddhists.

Fujiko Yokota said the Japanese feel they don't need Christianity in their lives. "With only 25 Anglican missionaries in Japan, it is very difficult to win converts. The biggest problem is winning the confidence of the people, and encouraging them to attend church services."

The Anglican church believes that Japanese missionaries might be more effective than white church workers, she said, and is attempting to gain missionaries through a native education program. In Japan, three-year missionary courses are offered.

Miss Yokota, a graduate of one of these schools, now is heading for three years of study at Toronto, to become a deaconess of the church.

Here's Information on Who Has Headaches and Why

Headaches are not a new discomfort. Some skulls from prehistoric times have been found to have openings from which disks of bone had been removed.

Archaeologists guess that this was done to relieve such miseries as headaches, epilepsy, or evil spirits held captive in the skull. Evidently many sufferers survived since many had several holes in their heads.

So far as I know there never have been any surveys to discover what percentage of mankind and womankind have headaches, but well-informed physicians estimate that about 70 per cent of the population have them at one time or another. Of course there are millions of mild headaches which are self-treated with one of the painkillers which can be purchased at the corner drug-store.

Then there are the headaches which are so severe that they force the victim to see a physician.

It is interesting to know which classification of humans have the most headaches. While individual susceptibility cannot be predicted it does seem that the distribution of this malady is somewhat subject to occupation, age, sex and marital state.

Dr. Henry Ogden of the Louisiana University School of Medicine has made some interesting surveys along this line. He studied a sample population of 5,000 people to obtain information concerning recurring headaches. It seems that unmarried women under the age of 20 have the greatest number. As to occupation, business executives and professional persons head the list and housewives are third.

I must admit that it gave me a complex when I read that 80 per cent of medical students complain of recurring headaches while patients in mental institutions almost never have a pain in the head. This gave me a complex because I never have a headache; the two exceptions being once when I played badminton in 100 degree temperature and once when I had a sinus infection. Don't draw your own conclusions. I hope that the statistics are misleading or that I am the exception which proves the rule!

Muriel Richmond Married in St. Matthias

Baskets of pink and white gladioli decorated St. Matthias Church Saturday night for the marriage of Muriel Verna Richmond and Grant Robert Watkins. Rev. Angus Cameron officiated.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Richmond of Victoria and groom is the son of Mrs. L. Young, Victoria, and Mr. R. H. Watkins, Oliver, B.C.

A white floor-length gown featuring a Chantilly lace-trimmed bodice, Sabrina neckline and finger-length sleeves was chosen by the bride. Waistline was accented by a lace design with side panels of shirred taffeta which continued to the back in a large bowed bustle. The full hooped skirt of taffeta had a slight chapel train. Her headpiece was a jewelled cap with a finger-tip veil. A white orchid posed on plumosa fern with pink roses and white heather formed the bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor Mrs. Evelyn Downs wore a sheath-style dress of rose shot taffeta with three-quarter-length sleeves, a scoop neckline and short skirt. Bridesmaid Miss Evah Watkins and junior bridesmaid Miss Linda Richmond wore identical rose shot taffeta dresses featuring bouffant skirts, three-quarter-length sleeves and scoop necklines. All three dresses had matching cummerbunds. Flat bow headbands of rose shot taffeta were worn. They carried crescentshaped bouquets of gladioli. Flower girl Shirelyn Young chose a soft blue nylon dress with white lace trim and a matching headband of blue flowers and she carried a basket of feathered cream and pink carnations.

Mother of the bride wore a sheath dress of Basque blue lace over taffeta, white petal hat, white accessories and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Groom's mother wore a blue and white flowered silk crepe dress, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Jim Hillier was best man and Joe Watkins and Bob Chamberland ushered.

Cliff Rogers proposed the bridal toast at reception in Hollywood House. A three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by tulle and pink roses, was cut by the couple.

Light Plane Crashes, Pilot, Young Boy Die

(Compiled from CP)

PRINCE GEORGE — A pilot and his seven-year-old passenger were killed and another passenger severely injured Sunday night when a light plane crashed into bushland 50 miles south of this north-central B.C. city.

Dead are Al West of Prince George and Ivor Kent, son of Ivan Kent, also of Prince George. The father was in critical condition in hospital today.

Police said the plane was returning to Prince George from Chilliwack, 60 miles east of Vancouver when it stalled and plunged almost straight down into the bush.

A farmer who heard the plane in trouble rushed out onto a field with a flashlight and tried to guide the plane to the clearing. But police said the plane had apparently gone into a dive and couldn't pull out. It crashed about 200 yards from the field.

TRAPPED IN ELEVATOR

VANCOUVER — Frank Allwyn, 62, spent seven hours trapped in a faulty elevator in a downtown bank building before being rescued Sunday night.

His plight was discovered when someone entered the building and buzzed for the elevator. Allwyn shouted that he was trapped and firemen came to the rescue. They gave him a whiff of oxygen and he resumed his duties in the building.

BOOKKEEPER HUNTED

VANCOUVER — A bookkeeper suspected of having fled with $2,100 belonging to a wholesale fruit and vegetable warehouse in Vancouver is being sought by police.

Salvation Army Band Invited To Oregon Concert

Victoria's 40-piece Salvation Army Band has been invited to participate in Oregon State's centennial celebrations over Labor Day in Portland.

The band will leave Saturday and give its first concert the same night at the Portland Citadel.

They will hold a "dress rehearsal" concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in Beacon Hill Park.

Sunday, Sept. 6, they will play at morning and evening services in addition to a concert in the afternoon. The band is scheduled to return to Victoria Sept. 7.

Art Gallery's Courses, Sept. 14

HOUSEWIVES NAB IKE TO WISH HIM GOOD LUCK

LONDON (AP) — Two housewives seized an unexpected opportunity for a personal chat with President Eisenhower today as he headed through London to St. Paul's Cathedral.

The scene was Kensington High Street, a big shopping centre.

The motorcade pulled into the curb for President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan to switch from a limousine to an open car.

Mrs. Jacqueline Wollaston and Mrs. Elma Atkey rushed up to Eisenhower and said:

"We just want to wish you good luck."

"Well, thank you very much," Eisenhower replied. They all shook hands.

'Real Hope' For Summit —Eisenhower

LONDON (CP) — President Eisenhower said tonight that there is "real hope" for an East-West summit meeting if Premier Khrushchev realizes that peace in the world is imperative.

CIVIL SERVICE PROTESTS SALARY DELAY

HALIFAX (CP) — The Civil Service Federation of Canada today approved a strongly worded resolution protesting what it termed the federal government delay in announcing general salary increases for its more than 80,000 civil servants.

A telegram of protest is to be sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other federal officials.

B.C. Highway Probe 'Purely Provincial'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton said today an RCMP investigation in connection with certain trans-Canada highways contracts in the Kamloops area of B.C. was purely a provincial matter.

He likely will discuss it with Public Works Minister Walker, however.

Mr. Fulton made the statements in reply to questions at a press conference on his arrival here to attend the Canadian Bar Association convention.

A reporter asked if his department had received reports on the RCMP investigation into the handling of contracts in a $1,600,000 trans-Canada highways project near Kamloops.

He said his department had no indication that any federal funds were involved; federal public works department engineers checked these projects and if they were satisfied, the federal government's financial share was paid.

He knew no more about the matter than what he had read in newspaper reports, he said, but it would be a fair presumption that he will discuss the matter with the minister of public works sometime after his return to Ottawa Wednesday.

The RCMP report was turned over to Attorney General Bonner of B.C., who said at the time that it showed that further action was not necessary. A highways department regional superintendent left his job during the investigation.

ONLY GOSSIP ABOUT IKE

'Hagetorium' Burns Press

LONDON — The British press, angry because President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan refused to give it a news conference today, blasted "The Hagetorium" for releasing only crumbs of gossip.

The unkindest cut came when Eisenhower and Macmillan appeared on an "ad-lib" television program after their pre-Khrushchev visit talks.

"The Hagetorium" is reporters' name for 10 Carlton House Terrace, headquarters of James Hagerty, the president's spokesman, and press centre for the Ike-Mac talks.

A row flared up briefly Sunday between reporters and Hagerty and foreign office spokesman Peter Hops.

Today the row burst into print.

Bandits Take Polio Vaccine In Bizarre Laboratory Raid

Worth $50,000 But Hard to Sell

MONTREAL (CP) — Seventy-five thousand doses of Salk vaccine worth $50,000 were stolen early today by three armed bandits from the University of Montreal laboratory in suburban Laval des Rapides.

Dr. Lionel Fortier, assistant director of the university's institute of microbiology and hygiene, said the vaccine was to be shipped today to the provincial health department in Quebec City for distribution in the province.

"The bandits were after the Salk vaccine," he said. "But I don't know what they'll do with it. It will be hard to sell."

The vaccine arrived last week from Connaught Laboratories in Toronto to help ease

a "shortage" of the anti-polio shots in the province.

Three men, armed with revolvers and with their heads covered with nylon stockings, forced their way into the laboratory where Salk vaccine and other serums are manufactured.

They broke the lock on a large refrigerator filled with vaccine and escaped with the contents.

Dr. Fortier said the vaccine, in cardboard boxes, could be transported in a private car.

Gunmen Overpower Night Watchman

The vaccine has been in short supply largely because of a run on inoculations set off by Montreal's current polio epidemic.

The bandits overpowered night watchman Arpolis Beland while he was making his 3 a.m. check of the exterior of the laboratory.

"I told them there was no money in the building," Mr. Beland told police. He quoted the bandits as replying: "We know that but money is not what we want."

They locked him in a cage containing 500 rhesus monkeys which are used in the production of the vaccine.

Mr. Beland said the appearance of the bandits was frightening.

"My heart began to beat wildly," he said. One of the bandits noticed his condition.

"Let's go easy, he might collapse in our hands," Mr. Beland quoted one of the bandits as saying. "This man talked as though he knew medicine."

Threatened With Blackjacks in Cage

Mr. Beland said one of the bandits returned regularly to the cage and threatened him with a blackjack. Finally about 4:30 a.m. the bandits left.

The night watchman was unable to free himself until 6 a.m. He immediately called police.

On a preliminary investigation it appeared that only Mr. Beland's car had been taken. Police left the premises.

Mr. Beland called them back later when he noticed that the lock on a refrigerator containing Salk vaccine had been smashed.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, city health director, said the theft would not affect two Salk clinics to be held tonight and Tuesday for about 20,000 persons. The clinics will provide second shots of anti-polio vaccine for people who got their first shot three weeks ago.

He said ample supplies were reserved for the free clinics when city officials found their reserves were dwindling at the height of Montreal's mild polio epidemic.

KARACHI (Reuters) — Chinese Communist troops have entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, the Associated Press of Pakistan news agency said today.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report from any other source.

The report was given by the agency's Calcutta correspondent, quoting a usually reliable source in Darjeeling, India.

The 18,000-square-mile state of Bhutan lies in the eastern Himalayas and is bordered by India, with which it has treaty relations, and Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru of India announced Friday that any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim, another Himalayan state, would be regarded as aggression against India.

Cabinet Shift In Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — A shuffle of cabinet posts involving four ministers was announced today by Premier Manning.

A Russell Patrick will become minister of industries and development, a new portfolio, and provincial secretary.

Raymond Reinson will become minister of labor and minister of telephones.

The changes will be made official Tuesday when the ministers are sworn into their new jobs. The size of Premier Manning's cabinet remains unchanged at 12 members.

The job of provincial secretary was held by Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor held the telephones portfolio.

Fire at Oil Refinery

RED-LED MOBS BATTLE POLICE IN CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Police fought pitched battles with Communist-led mobs throughout Calcutta today. Law and order was reported to have broken down in some of the busiest parts of the city.

Many policemen were injured as the rioters hurled brickbats at every police van and motorcycle seen on the streets. Street lamps were smashed.

FIRST VICTIM'S SISTER

Polio Takes Second Life

By MICHAEL ROSE

Polio has struck for the second time in British Columbia, taking the life of the sister of the first victim.

Mrs. Verne Erickson, Maple Bay Road, Duncan, died Saturday at 9 p.m. in Royal Jubilee Hospital after 15 days in an iron lung.

Sister of Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, who died a week before in the same room, the 26-year-old woman is the mother of four and was completely paralyzed before her death.

Although she had had no polio inoculations, she was thought by doctors to be over the worst period of the disease, and Jubilee Hospital medical administrator, Dr. Murray Anderson, said today that she had been "doing reasonably well."

DAY, NIGHT STRUGGLE

Mrs. Erickson became critically ill Friday evening and, despite the efforts of doctors who worked through the night and the next day, died 24 hours later.

"The change was abrupt," said Dr. Anderson, "when the virus involves the top part of the spinal cord it affects the vital centres (heart and lungs are two) and this may have been the case here."

She was brought down from Duncan August 14 leaving four children: Teresa, Kenneth, Leif and Derek in the care of their father, Verne, a logging truck driver who has been working at Britannia Beach.

NEGLECTED 'SHOTS'

"We should have got the shots," he said, "but we just let it ride."

"The kids got theirs, two of them got all and two others their first shots."

Dr. Anderson said that it was fairly common for members of the same family or close friends to contract the disease. "We had a fair number of cases" during the epidemics.

He said the children would be carefully watched by Duncan doctors.

The death of Mrs. Erickson brings the number of cases in B.C. to seven and the deaths to two so far this year compared to 13 cases and three deaths for the 12 months of 1958.

Possibility of an epidemic was immediately quashed by Dr. Anderson who pointed out that "there have been no cases of polio in Victoria this year."

Assistant Victoria-Esquamit medical health officer Keith MacDonald said today that there had been an increased demand for inoculations but no panic and most requests were from those already protected.

SPACE ROCKET

40 Minutes To L.A. From London

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. space scientist today disclosed plans to build a space rocket that could hurl passengers 5,500 miles from London to Los Angeles in 40 minutes.

Darrell C. Romick of the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation said company scientists working on the rocket have evolved a three-stage vehicle about 150 feet long consisting of a passenger compartment and two separate boosters. Each of the booster sections will be manned by two or three men as well as the passenger section.

Romick, head of Goodyear's astronautics section, said there would be room for about 25 passengers and that the space liner could be flying by 1975.

The passengers would lie on couch-like chairs in the space liner and in a matter of minutes would be shot 35 miles into space at the speed of 12,000 miles an hour.

This peak altitude would be reached about 400 miles from the takeoff point, Romick said. Then the power in the two rocket boosters would be cut off, the rocket would glide toward its destination and when it had slowed to about 400 mph turbojet engines would bring it down into a normal landing.

POLIO KILLS NFLD. BOY

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The health department said today a 10-year-old St. John's boy died in hospital of polio Sunday, boosting the total number of deaths this year to four.

The polio case count rose during the weekend to 60. Of the 60 cases treated to date, 36 have been iron-lung cases.

Supplies of Salk vaccine ran out late last week but the department expected to receive new supplies Sept. 10.

DANGER OF MISTAKES

Macmillan said he felt that in the world situation today "there is a danger that we might drift into something by mistake, bluff, counter-bluff, lack of understanding on both sides."

"I tell you frankly," he said, "when I read the Russian ultimatum in November about Berlin, I felt the danger of that drift."

It was because of this feeling, the prime minister added, that he himself went to meet Khrushchev in the Soviet Union last November.

The president, referring to American relationships with the Commonwealth, spoke particularly of Canada, which he said had a frontier with the United States of more than 3,000 miles "defended by nothing but friendship."

"There is not a gun or a fort along it. This is the kind of

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Our Father, Who hast given us the means of enjoying the beauty in Thy created world, we thank Thee for summer days of relaxation. May our rest be truly refreshing. May our vacation period send us back to the regular tasks of life with enthusiasm and joy. And may we never cease to be grateful to Thee for a life of busyness as well as a life of relaxation. Give us the knowledge and ability to know when each is in order that we may live each day in effective Christian living; for Christ's sake. Amen.

No-Limit PGE Bonds Go on Sale Tuesday

Bond houses will begin sale of B.C. government Pacific Great Eastern Railway bonds Tuesday.

The issue of 5-per-cent bonds was originally announced by Premier Bennett as a drive to raise $10,000,000 for railway development, but recently he indicated there is no ceiling on the issue.

The bonds will be available in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and interest will be paid quarterly. Bond houses will receive 3 per cent commission. The bonds will not be sold at less than par at any time.

Unlike bonds issued by private firms, there will be no balance sheet with full disclosure of all operations of the railway.

A government official said an "abbreviated prospectus" is available, adding, "after all the bond issue is guaranteed unconditionally by the province. The Dominion of Canada doesn't issue a full financial statement with a federal bond issue."

Arrangements have been made to permit sale of the bonds to individuals on a pay-roll deduction basis as well as through over-the-counter sales.

Appeal to UN By Tibet's Exiled Ruler

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters)—The Dalai Lama appealed Sunday to the United Nations and the free world to support Tibet in its fight for "freedom and justice" against Communist China.

He asked the "verdict of all peace-loving and conscientious nations of the world on the dismal tragedy of my people" overrun by Chinese troops last spring after an abortive uprising against Chinese occupation.

The exiled spiritual ruler, who fled to India at the time of the revolt, said he had no other alternative than to appeal to the United Nations since the picture of Tibet under Chinese control "has become immeasurably darker and gloomier and the sufferings of my people are beyond description."

India Sprung UN Bid

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India will not raise the Tibetan question at the United Nations, according to bulletins on the All-India radio network. The radio said Nehru made the statement to an All-India radio reporter.

thing that I think we must all strive to achieve, whether we are geographical neighbors or not, and I am quite sure if Mr. Diefenbaker were here he would say we are neighbors in the sense of the Biblical parable just as well as we are geographical neighbors.

And one other point.
"We have spoken of your country and ours in relationship with Canada but we are neighbors in another great society, a society dedicated to peace and the defence of the West, and that is NATO.

WELCOMED BY ALL
Macmillan, ending the broadcast, assured the president that every single man, woman and child in Britain welcomed him here.

The president asked to be allowed a final word to the British people. He said:
"I want to thank everybody that has played a part in showing his kindness and British hospitality to me and my party.

"God save your gracious Queen and all her people."

In advance of the broadcast, official spokesmen had virtually nothing to report on what they decided in their week-end of conferences at Chequers, the country estate of prime ministers, 37 miles northwest of London.

Reporters were told the talks covered the ability and readiness of the West to resist Communist aggression and the prospects of agreement with the USSR on suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

London roared another salute to Eisenhower today as he rode through the heart of the city to St. Paul's Cathedral.

Thousands massed around St. Paul's as Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan rolled up in an open car. They went to the cathedral for a solemn half-hour in the chapel built in memory of 28,000 British-based American servicemen who lost their lives in the Second World War.

Appearing rested after the weekend of talks in the country with Macmillan, Eisenhower spread both arms wide in answer to the cheers of the crowd.

Fagan Parents Live Off Theft

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Police today said they were seeking a father and mother who supported themselves by teaching their seven children to steal.

Kenneth Myers, 39-year-old former Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., guard, and his wife, Dolores, 41, were wanted on charges of burglary, receiving stolen property and contributing to the delinquency of minors.

The Fagan-like couple was believed travelling in a house trailer with four of their children whom they have trained as professional pickpockets, shoplifters, auto thieves and burglars, according to police.

Activities of the Myers family were revealed to juvenile bureau detective Simon Bolger Saturday when the couple's 14-year-old son was arrested attempting to steal a small machine tool in a store.

The youth told Bolger that his father spent a year schooling the seven children in the ways of crime.

He estimated the family made about $6,000 this year and was responsible for about 600 minor thefts since moving to the San Diego area last Christmas.

The youth said his elder brother and sister refused to take part in the family theft scheme and subsequently were "expelled" from the family. He didn't know where they are now.

Good CD Could Slash Nuclear Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The human loss from a major nuclear attack could be reduced startlingly by civil defence preparedness, a congressional committee says.

The Senate House of Representatives committee on atomic energy, after an analysis of its hearings last June on the biological and environmental effects of nuclear war, said:

"Probably the most significant finding... was that civil defence preparedness could reduce the casualties... from approximately 20 per cent of the population to about three per cent."

The committee assumed, in dealing with a hypothetical attack on the United States, that 263 nuclear weapons would burst over heavy population centres, industrial and military targets.

It found that 50,000,000 Americans would die and 20,000,000 more would be seriously injured. Half the population would be homeless. Radiation would cause millions of terrible deaths and contaminate food and water supplies.

However, the committee determined that 100,000,000 would be unhurt, that fields would recover their fertility and that millions could be saved through civil defence bomb shelters for all. Such shelter, it estimated, could cost from $5,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000.

CCF LEADERS MEET TO DISCUSS SEMINAR

WINNIPEG (CP)—Thirty members of the CCF national council met here today to discuss regular council business and, in the words of national president David Lewis, "to assess the results of last week's seminar."

The meeting of the CCF top brass was not expected to make major decisions on the formation of the new CCF-labor party which was the subject of the seminar. Mr. Lewis said that such decisions will be the responsibility of the next CCF national convention, to be held in July, 1960.

Farm Aid Woored For Labor Party

WINNIPEG (CP)—A strong pitch for farm support for a new political party was made by two top CCF spokesmen Sunday at the last day of a four-day seminar sponsored jointly by the Canadian Labor Congress and CCF leadership.

Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan and Commons CCF Leader Hazen Argue pressed for farm backing in speeches before CLC executive vice-president Stanley Knowles issued a session-closing statement to the press.

Mr. Douglas said that the farmers and his CCF party should work together.

"Agriculture has had no organization and no bargaining power," he said. There is "an affinity of interest and an independence" between farmers and industrial workers.

"We have been deluged with insidious propaganda that their interests are diametrically opposed." This was designed to split the groups.

CLC president Claude Jodoin told the seminar that the need for a new party was greater today than ever. But... "the congress... must leave complete freedom of choice to each union on the question of

WEEK'S MARKETS

Volumes Slowed To Near Trickle

By GERRY MARTIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A cooling off in the cold war, coupled with a possible early settlement in the U.S. steel strike had Canadian stock markets trailing New York last week like a little boy follows his mother.

But New York did little and Canadian markets did less as volumes slowed almost to a trickle and daily gains for the most part were in fractions.

Observers were of the opinion that sooner or later the main upward trend should be resumed but several weeks may be needed to form a suitable base.

CHANGES SLIGHT

Index changes at Toronto were thought to be the smallest in a number of years. Western oils were off more than three-quarters, but industrials and base metals were down a few decimal points while golds added .01.

One observer summed up the action, "the market moved here and there, but went nowhere."

The food chains looked as if they might provide a little excitement as a trading stamp war broke out in Ontario and threatened to spread across the country. Loblaw's and Dominion Stores did little, but Steinberg's A was up 1.87 1/2 at $27.25. Dominion Stores gained $2 but then settled back unchanged at $63. Dominion so far has not entered the trading stamp give-away.

MINING FIRMS PLAN MERGER

TORONTO (CP) — Plans to merge 10 small mining companies, nine of which are listed on Toronto Stock Exchange, all headed by A. W. Johnson of Toronto, have been announced.

Shareholders of the companies will be asked to approve the merger at their annual meeting Sept. 9 here.

The new company, will be called Hydra Explorations Ltd.

EX-VICTORIAN NEW DIRECTOR OF B.C. POWER

VANCOUVER (CP) — Appointment of Arthur B. Christopher, formerly of Victoria, to the board of directors of the British Columbia Power Corporation was announced Saturday by president A. E. Grauer.

Mr. Christopher, president of Nelson's Laundries Ltd., succeeds John L. Farris, Q.C., who was appointed a temporary director last spring following the death of James G. Robson.

down from a like period in 1958. Simpsons dipped to a low of $34.12 1/2 before recovering to close off 75 cents at $35.50.

Strikes continued to dog the U.S. mining industry but base metals reacted little on the week. International Nickel led 62 1/2 cents at $96 for the largest change. The U.S. government announced that it had worked out an agreement with International Nickel whereby it was relieved of buying about 26,000,000 pounds of nickel from the Canadian company.

A handful of speculative mines and oils were active boosting volumes slightly. On the week 13,522,000 shares traded at Toronto, compared with 13,229,000 shares last week. However, much of the activity came from these lower priced issues and dollar values dropped from $37,353,479 last week to $26,534,963.

Orphan featured the mines as it joined that select group of issues trading more than 2,000,000 shares in a week. It added 10 cents at $1.00. The company has reported that it has some promising assays from its main Cote group of claims in Mattagami, Que.

Qantas Jets Opening Service to Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — Qantas Empire Airways will open the first pure-jet airline service into Vancouver next month when it begins a weekly service between here and Sydney, Australia, via San Francisco and Honolulu.

A Qantas spokesman here said Friday the service, first Boeing 707 jet flights scheduled into Canada, begins Sept. 11 and will cut the flying time between Vancouver and Sydney to less than half the present 35 hours needed for the Super Constellation trip.

At the same time, the airline will begin a Boeing jet service between Vancouver and London, taking 14 hours for the overseas flight.

On Oct. 2 it plans to open an around-the-world schedule that will go from Sydney to New York, London, Rome, Bangkok and back to Sydney in 51 hours.

INDEPENDENT PRODUCERS BACK BORDEN

Oil Boom 'Ultimatum' Nailed

CALGARY (CP) — The proposals of the Borden Commission for establishment of a national oil policy which would expand export and Eastern Canadian markets for Alberta crude oil were endorsed Saturday at a meeting here of officials of independent producers.

The meeting heard a detailed explanation of the commission recommendations from R. W. Wells, of Canadian Husky Oils, and James H. Gray, of Home Oil Co. Ltd.

Disappointment was expressed at the recommendation of the proposal to build a pipeline to Montreal, but the group said it recognized that many recommendations of the independent producers were accepted by the commission.

Most important proposal of the commission was that a national oil policy be adopted which would rapidly expand markets for Alberta oil within the next year, the group said.

Charles S. Lee, president of Western Decalta Petroleum Ltd., said in a statement after the meeting that as far as the independent Canadian oil producers are concerned, the second report of the Borden Commission means increased oil

MARKET SUMMARIES

Brighter Tone By Industrials

The market scraped to a slim gain on improved industrials at Toronto today, as oils recovered partly from losses in the wake of the Borden report.

Steels and motors boosted the Wall Street market to a higher tone, with Ford a stand-out, gaining 2 1/2.

AT TORONTO industrials were ahead almost 1 1/2 points on index, while base metals, the only other winners, gained more than one-third. Western oils improved but remained down almost two-thirds. Golds slipped a few decimal points.

Papers and pipelines showed the best gains. Changes in the greater majority were fractional.

Coppers moved higher following a three-cent-a-pound increase in the custom smelter price of the red metal in the United States. Uranium was down.

Seniors were down almost to an issue in western oils. Home B dipped 1/4 at 14, while Pacific Pate was off 1/4 at 13 1/2. Calgary & Edmonton was off 1/4 at 23 1/2.

AT NEW YORK Youngstown Sheet was up more than 3. Lukens ahead, around 2, and U.S. Steel more than a point higher.

Ritter Co. scammed ahead 6 points for a while; then chopped its gain to a point or so. The company reported a new development in greatly reducing pain in dentistry.

On the American Stock Exchange, Scurry Rainbow Oil lost and Preston East Dome lost 1/2. Preston East-Dome 1/2.

AT MONTREAL prices were irregular, during quiet early afternoon trading.

Utilities were irregularly stronger with B.C. Power at 36 1/2, up 1/2. Quebec natural gas down 1/2 at 17.

Base metals showed 1/2 losses by Aluminum at 37 1/2 and Hudson Bay at 53 1/2. Steel lost 1/4 at 81 1/2.

AT LONDON prices gushed higher today. Gilt-edged securities continued their recovery from recent setbacks.

Dollar stocks were generally easier. Steels attracted attention among industrials.

AT VANCOUVER the market was dull with slight

"The report is most emphatic, almost to the point of being threatening, that, if the international companies refining in Montreal do not find markets for 700,000 barrels a day by the end of 1960 they would find themselves compelled to take Canadian crude into Montreal. This 700,000-barrel-a-day production must now be the industry's target. It can quite easily be achieved."

Mr. Lee added: "The vital thing about the

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Soft activity occurred in wheat today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with exporters and international accounts credited with modest purchases.

Reports indicated a small export business with a parcel list going to the United Kingdom. Prices were somewhat irregular as offerings tended to increase on upturns. Prices showed occasional hesitation.

Rye prices showed an easiness with selling attributed to a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report which forecast a larger crop than expected.

Lakehead prices for Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat were all 1/2 cent lower.

50 Rest Homes For Aged Here Not Licenced

There are at least 50 rest homes for elderly persons operating in Greater Victoria without provincial licences or adequate supervision, it was charged here today.

A member of the B.C. Rest Homes Association of Vancouver Island, and a former president of the organization, Mrs. M. E. Brisbin, said all a person has to do to start operating a rest home "is to get a rooming house licence at the city hall."

"The welfare people seem indifferent to the whole affair," she stated.

VISITS ERRATIC

"Much more supervision is needed. Anything can happen to the old people in some of these places," she said.

Even in the licenced rest homes, supervision by the government was inadequate. She described visits as "erratic."

"We come under city, welfare, but a social worker comes around only now and again, for some specific reason. I know they are overworked but still..."

"There should be no unlicensed places," said Mrs. Brisbin.

In asking for more official interest in operation of legitimate rest homes, she said also that occupational therapy was badly needed.

"Elderly persons must have an interest in something. Even if more persons telephoned and asked if they could take some of the elderly for a drive, it would be greatly appreciated."

Ages of rest home dwellers range from 70 to over 90.

WIDE COST SPREAD

Mrs. Brisbin said for welfare cases, the government paid $85 a month to the rest home operator, while it paid $185 a month for bed patients in private hospitals.

There are about 20 licenced rest homes in the association, and a meeting on the problem is scheduled for tonight.

City welfare administrator William Hooson said there was going to be a "revamping" of the present licensing procedure.

But he explained it was difficult to determine always just which rest homes were meeting government requirements in all respects.

PENSIONERS KEPT OUT

"But there are a good many rest homes operating who do not take in old aged pensioners, and make a point of this," he said.

Thus there could be old-age pensioners in non-licenced rest homes which makes the situation "difficult to pick up."

However, he said, while there was no government check of the patients themselves in rest homes without licences, city health and other inspectors made regular visits to the establishments.

He termed the present situation "confusing."

AUGUST ENDS ON DULL NOTE

Skies were expected to clear tonight just in time to let August avoid leaving under a cloud, the weatherman said today.

Up to 11 a.m. today rainfall total was .18 inch, and more is expected by Tuesday night with the onset of a storm now in the Gulf of Alaska.

Genial Host, Well Known Here, Dead

T. Karl DeMorest, well-known former British Columbia hotelman, died in Civic Hospital in Ottawa Saturday, friends here were advised today.

Mr. DeMorest had recently suffered a heart attack. He was 62 years of age.

A native of Sudbury, Mr. DeMorest was for many years with the CPR hotel organization and was at one time assistant manager of the old Hotel Vancouver.

He also served as manager of the Devonshire Hotel in Vancouver and, for a brief period in the early war years, as manager of the Somass Hotel in Port Alberni.

In 1942 he went to Ottawa and became resident manager and part owner of the Lord Elgin Hotel, retiring in 1958. He was associated in an executive capacity with the John C. Udd group of hotels which subsequently were sold into the Sheraton chain in Canada.

Mr. DeMorest served in the First World War, losing a leg in action a week before the signing of the Armistice.

A keen sportsman, he was one of the founders of the "Breakfast Club" in Vancouver, which promoted Canadian football. In latter years he had been active in fishing and boating at his summer place at Grand Lake in the Gaitheau hills.

Mr. DeMorest is survived by his widow, Jean, and son John, both resident at the Lord Elgin Hotel in Ottawa. The funeral will be held in Ottawa Tuesday.

Reports that Royal Jubilee Hospital is being forced to use equipment reserves to avoid operational deficits were denied today by hospital administrator George Masters.

A news story originating in Vancouver Saturday said the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service has brought some hospitals to the "breaking point" through strict financing. It listed the Jubilee as one of six hospitals allegedly scraping by while using up their reserves.

"This is entirely wrong," Mr. Masters said today.

"Last spring we showed our first operating profit" in many years," he said this amounted to $13,000 to which were added $34,500 income from donations and bequests and $39,000 received from provincial and federal governments for equipment.

"So we had $86,500 over and above operating costs. We spent $65,000 on various improvements and still had $21,000 to be put into the building fund," Mr. Masters added that as far as could be known at this time, the hospital appeared to be "just getting by" in the current year.

The administrator said he could not understand how the earlier report was obtained; no one had contacted his office.

4-H Gardeners Trophy Winners

Luxton 4-H Garden Club was named Saturday as winner of a demonstration contest held Friday night at Luxton Fair in competition with other 4-H clubs in the district.

Team members Patti Boulter, Roy Brydon and Mickey Sturgeon discussed the choice and preparation of vegetables for exhibition in their prize-winning appearance.

TV 'Texan' Here

A burly Texan was besieged by boys and girls with autograph books when he stepped out of the Olde England Inn on Lamson Street today.

The celebrity is Harry Lauter who as Clay Morgan, leader of the Texas Rangers, shoots out fiery gun battles in the current TV series from Hollywood.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter Brooke, Mr. Lauter went shopping for English wools and Wedgewood china in Government Street stores this morning.

A carnival game operator whose tent was burned in a wave of violence at Mid West Shows at the curling rink Saturday night "got what was coming to him," an unidentified member of the midway said before leaving Victoria.

The carnival site erupted into a melee of shouting, knife-wielding and looting by teen-aged "hoodlums" at 9:20 p.m. after one of their number fought with a game operator Friday night and is alleged to have put a paper match "bomb" beside the operator's tent to start the $1,500 blaze.

A few minutes later a 17-year-old Langford boy was found lying on rocks behind the carnival with a gash on the head, claiming to have been struck down by a gang of short men.

TIRES SLASHED

Saturday's gang attack followed a wave of tire slashing of cars parked next to the curling rink, which police associate with the later incidents.

Despite the violence, Chief Constable John Blackstock said he received no complaints whatsoever of "crooked" games or unethical behavior by members of the show.

He said Hugh Davis, manager of Mid West Shows, is a "square shooter." He did his level best to run a good show. But he can't be every place at once.

After the outbreak Saturday, Chief Blackstock ordered the carnival to shut down at 10 p.m. instead of midnight.

CLOSURE APPROVED

Today Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood, chairman of Greater Victoria Celebrations Association which sponsored the show, said the early shutdown lost the association an estimated $500 in revenue.

"However, I think the police did the right thing in shutting it down," he added.

Investigation of the fire is under way by city detectives. The trouble was alleged to have started in a dispute with Jesse Campbell, operator of a 25-cent ring toss game, who had trouble with a teen-ager Friday night over the winning of a wrist watch prize.

There was an argument, and Campbell jumped out of his stall and fought with the youth. The fire slashing was reported to police later that night.

Frank Stokes, proprietor of the Gypsy tent, which housed the ring toss game as well, which was completely destroyed, told police he saw a group of youths in a customized car.

They had threatened trouble and mentioned burning down the tent, he said.

A short time earlier, the operator of an adjacent tent had spotted a matchbook with lighted cigarette inserted burning against the canvas, and he put it out before there was damage.

The second attempt was a success.

PRIZES LOOTED

When the blaze started, groups of youths carrying short pieces of pipe and knives were seen lurking about and they were joined by others who looted carnival prizes of watches, teddy bears, lamps and kewpie dolls.

Joseph Wright, celebrations committee vice-chairman, said the loss from fire damage would be borne by the carnival.

Saanich Girl Thrilled With Top PNE Prize

A 16-year-old Saanich girl who won the grand aggregate championship in stock judging at the B.C. 4-H Club show at the PNE Saturday, said today she doesn't understand how she came first in the contest.

"I didn't think for a moment that I stood a chance against people of my own age whose parents own some of the best farms in the province," said Karen Cronk, 4316 Blenkinsop Road. "I just don't know how it happened."

Karen, a member of the Sooke-Sidney-Saanich 4-H Beef Club, won the Pym Trophy, the top PNE award for young farm people of the province.

She is a student of Mount Douglas High School and has been in 4-H club work for the past three years.

Her club, composed of Robert Allan, Royal Oak; Albert and Garry Hull, Langford; and Ruth McDonald, Saanichton, placed second in the contest. They each will receive a silver medal.

HIGHEST POSSIBLE Canadian figure skating award, the Canadian Gold Medal, was won Sunday in Vancouver by Maralee Rutley of Victoria Figure Skating Club. She is now qualified to teach figure skating anywhere in the world. Miss Rutley won her prize in trials sponsored by the B.C. Figure Skating Association.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Mayor Percy Scourrah said today that no word has been received yet from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker on whether the federal government would pay a $150,000 subsidy to keep the CPR Victoria-Vancouver ferry service operating this winter. The prime minister promised a decision this week.

Winners follow of the weekly tournament, Victoria unit, American Contract Bridge League.

Irene Abels and George Metcalfe; Eric Goodwin and Otto Leessent; Albert Jorgensen and Stan Trickey; Ethel Cleworth and Dorothy McAvoy; Mr. and Mrs. J. McAvoy.

N. W. Hollett, 54, hurt in Chemainus Friday when a tire exploded, was brought to the Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday for treatment of a fractured skull, and today was reported in satisfactory condition.

Mr. Hollett, part owner with his son of a tire business, was removing a tire from a grader on Trans-Canada Highway by prying a steel rim from the wheel. Suddenly the tube exploded and the rim struck him on the face. He was taken to Chemainus General Hospital for treatment before coming here.

Construction of a new $10,000 swimming pool at the Fort Street quarters of the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club will begin late in September, club president Jim McArthur announced this week-end.

Handling the construction of the proposed 60 by 26-foot pool will be W. Trace Ltd., under the direction of Fred Greenidge, manager of the swimming pool division.

City public works committee meets Tuesday at 9.15 a.m.

A public meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort.

Speaker will be former principal of Theological College, Dayton, Ohio, Rev. Robert Thornton, who is at present on a tour of Canada for the Canadian British-Israel Association.

A Victoria woman who had been holidaying at Savary Island, in Georgia Strait north of Powell River, was found drowned Saturday between Savary and Cortes Islands.

She was said to have fallen from a pleasure boat while fishing. According to RCMP, the death was accidental. Police are withholding her identity pending their notification of the death.

A useful "lift" to winter employment will be given in September when B.C. Electric underground wiring work resumes.

About 60 men will be employed on the project.

Work will be at the following locations: East side of Douglas from Cormorant to Herald; east side of Government from View to Herald; west side of Douglas from View to Yates; east side of Broad from View to Pandora; south side of Johnson from Broad to Douglas; south side of Yates from Government to Douglas; and north side of Humboldt from Government to Gordon.

Youth, Girl Hurt On Motorcycle In Malahat Crash

A Victoria youth and girl were injured Sunday evening when the motorcycle on which they were riding was in collision with a car on the north slope of the Malahat, not far from Mill Bay.

In good condition in St. Joseph's Hospital, and undergoing treatment for head, face and leg injuries, is Charles Keay, 19, of 206 Niagara, driver of the motorbike.

His passenger, Maureen Ashe, 16, of 860 Parklands, was discharged after treatment of an injured thigh.

According to reports, the accident occurred at 7.15 p.m. when the motorcycle, proceeding north, suddenly made a U-turn in front of a northbound car driven by Merl F. Musselman, Lynden, Wash.

He applied his brakes, but crashed into the motorcycle and pitched it to the ground. Keay and Miss Ashe were thrown clear, and Musselman's car was forced across the road.

Area Schools Must Take In 1,400 More

Some 25,850 pupils will troop back to 69 schools from Sidney to Sooke a week from Tuesday.

That will be an increase of about 1,400, mainly in School District 61 (Greater Victoria) which is expected to boost last year's 20,000 enrolment to 21,000.

Forecast enrolments in School District 63 (Saanich) and School District 62 (Sooke) for this year are 2,550 and 2,300 respectively, compared with 2,340 and 2,100 last year.

All the classrooms in the three school districts will have teachers, a total of 959 compared with 907 last year. Greater Victoria has added 40, Saanich seven and Sooke five to meet the pupil increase.

REGISTRATION DATES

School bells ring in the new year at 9 a.m., Sept. 8, but registration begins this week for some pupils in Sooke district.

Belmont High School students register Thursday and Friday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the school. Children who are entering the new Elizabeth Fisher Junior High School also will register at nearby Belmont.

The new high school's scheduled opening for the fall term has been delayed by the woodworkers' strike and classes will be distributed among other schools.

WINDMILL BUILT

Picturesque Netherlands Feature Here

By TONY DICKASON

The Duyvestyn family from Holland now have their own windmill.

It started beating the air in the front yard of 3020 Quadra over the weekend.

The windmill, though not exactly a miniature model, is of course far from full size. The structure is about eight feet high with the "sails" extending about 15 feet into the air.

Builder was Willem Kampen, father of Mrs. Alfons Duyvestyn, who arrived in Canada to be with his family last November.

It took him 2½ months to complete, and is a replica in detail of the big mills in Holland used to pump out water from reclaimed land.

JUST A HOBBY

Building the windmill was a hobby for Mr. Van Kampen, 63, and really no trouble. He was a contractor in his homeland.

Windmills aren't built in Holland any more, but those that have been erected over the centuries are carefully preserved, the family recalled.

A wheel turns the top of the tower, to which sails are attached, to catch the wind.

Actually, the rural atmosphere of windmill-land is more apparent here than in Holland to the family, who can see their own creation through the front window.

They all come from the populous capital, The Hague.

Builder Willem Van Kampen, and creation.

AFTER TALKS WITH MACMILLAN

IKE SEES HOPE FOR SUMMIT

Fraser Licks Mackay

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Left-handed Neale Fraser, 25-year-old strong man of an underrated team from down under, regained the Davis Cup for Australia today.

He slashed him way to an 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, in a playoff of the final match in the bitterly-contested challenge round halted by darkness Sunday.

All square with Mackay at one set each when fading light interrupted their vital fifth match on Sunday. Fraser clinched the cup for the underdog Aussies, 3-2, by attacking continually with his twisting, wild-hyping service and winning crucial games on Mackay's double-faults.

Fraser thus figured in all three points won by the Australians—two in singles and one in doubles.

TREMENDOUS TRIUMPH

The victory was the 15th for Australia in Davis Cup play and the 13th in 25-challenge round tests against the United States.

Play was delayed 45 minutes by rain at the start today but neither player appeared nervous under the mounting pressure. They battled confidently on the slippery turf after donning spiked shoes in the eighth game of the day's first set.

It was a tremendous personal triumph for Fraser, whose parents travelled the 10,000 miles from Australia to sit in at the finish with a sparse gallery of 4,000.

B.C. Highway Probe 'Purely Provincial'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton said today an RCMP investigation in connection with certain trans-Canada highways contracts in the Kamloops area of B.C. was purely a provincial matter.

He likely will discuss it with Public Works Minister Walker, however.

Mr. Fulton made the statements in reply to questions at a press conference on his arrival here to attend the Canadian Bar Association convention.

A reporter asked if his department had received reports on the RCMP investigation into the handling of contracts in a $160,000 trans-Canada highways project near Kamloops.

He said his department had no indication that any federal funds were involved; federal public works department engineers checked these projects and if they were satisfied, the federal government's financial share was paid.

He knew no more about the matter than what he had read in newspaper reports, he said, but it would be a fair presumption that he will discuss the matter with the minister of public works sometime after his return to Ottawa Wednesday.

The RCMP report was turned over to Attorney General Bonner of B.C., who said at the time that it showed that further action was not necessary. A highways department regional superintendent left his job during the investigation.

ROSETOWN, Sask. (CP)—Two men were killed early today when their cars collided head-on, 75 miles southeast of Saskatoon.

One of the cars caught fire after the impact. Names of the men were withheld.

FIRST VICTIM'S SISTER

Polio Takes Second Life

By MICHAEL ROSE

Polio has struck for the second time in British Columbia, taking the life of the sister of the first victim.

Mrs. Verne Erickson, Maple Bay Road, Duncan, died Saturday at 9 p.m. in Royal Jubilee Hospital after 15 days in an iron lung.

Sister of Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, who died a week before in the same room, the 26-year-old woman, is the mother of four and was completely paralyzed before her death.

Although she had had no polio inoculations she was thought by doctors to be over the worst period of the disease, and Jubilee Hospital medical administrator, Dr. Murray Anderson, said today that she had been "doing reasonably well."

Mrs. Erickson became critically ill Friday, evening and, despite the efforts of doctors who worked through the night and the next day, died 26 hours later.

"The change was abrupt," said Dr. Anderson, "when the virus involves the top part of the spinal cord it affects the vital centres (heart and lungs are two)" and this may have been the case here.

She was brought down from Duncan August 14 leaving

CIVIL SERVICE PROTESTS SALARY DELAY

HALIFAX (CP)—The Civil Service Federation of Canada today approved a strongly-worded resolution protesting what it termed the federal government delay in announcing general salary increases for its more than 80,000 civil servants.

A telegram of protest is to be sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other federal officials.

Polio Vaccine Stolen

MONTREAL (CP)—Seventy-five thousand doses of Salk vaccine worth $50,000 were stolen early today by three armed bandits from the University of Montreal laboratory in suburban Laval des Rapides.

Dr. Lionel Fortier, assistant director of the university's institute of microbiology and hygiene, said the vaccine was to be shipped today to the provincial health department in Quebec City for distribution in the province.

"The bandits were after the Salk vaccine," he said. "But I don't know what they'll do with it. It will be hard to sell."

The vaccine arrived last week from Connaught Laboratories in Toronto to help ease a shortage of the anti-polio shots in the province.

Three men, armed with revolvers and with their heads covered with nylon stockings, forced their way into the laboratory where Salk vaccine and other serums are manufactured.

They broke the lock on a large refrigerator filled with vaccine and escaped with the contents.

Dr. Fortier said the vaccine, in cardboard boxes, could be transported in a private car.

LOCKED IN CAGE

The vaccine has been in short supply largely because of a run on inoculations set off by Montreal's current polio epidemic.

The bandits overpowered night watchman Arpols Beland while he was making his 3 a.m. check of the exterior of the laboratory.

"I told them there was no money in the building," Mr. Beland told police. He quoted the bandits as replying: "We know that but money is not what we want."

They locked him in a cage containing 500 rhesus monkeys which are used in the production of the vaccine.

Mr. Beland said the appearance of the bandits was frightening.

"My heart began to beat wildly," he said. "One of the bandits noticed his condition."

"Let's go easy, he might collapse in our hands," Mr. Beland quoted one of the bandits as saying. "This map talked as though he knew medicine."

BLACKJACK

Mr. Beland said one of the bandits returned regularly to the cage and threatened him with a blackjack. Finally about 4:30 a.m. the bandits left. The night watchman was unable to free himself until 6 a.m. He immediately called police.

Dr. Adelard Groulx, city health director, said the theft would not affect two Salk clinics to be held tonight and Tuesday for about 20,000 persons. The clinics will provide second shots of anti-polio vaccine for people who got their first shot three weeks ago.

PGE Bonds Up for Sale On Tuesday

Bond houses will begin sale of B.C. government Pacific Great Eastern Railway bonds Tuesday.

The issue of 5-per-cent bonds was originally announced by Premier Bennett as a drive to raise $10,000,000 for railway development, but recently he indicated there is no ceiling on the issue.

The bonds will be available in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and interest will be paid quarterly. Bond houses will receive 1/2 per cent commission. The bonds will not be sold at less than par at any time.

Unlike bonds issued by private firms, there will be no balance sheet with full disclosure of all operations of the railway.

Arrangements have been made to permit sale of the bonds to individuals on a payroll deduction basis as well as through over-the-counter sales.

CHECKED OUT

He checked out of the UBC Faculty Club Sunday morning, after closing his Hotel Vancouver commission headquarters.

Professor Deutsch had his final meeting Friday with representatives of the International Woodworkers of America (IWA). During the previous 11 days he had met frequently with union spokesmen and representatives of the 125 affected coastal logging firms.

It was believed he completed his report for Labor Minister Wicks Friday night and sent it to Victoria Saturday.

'People Want Peace, Let Them Have It'

LONDON (CP)—President Eisenhower said tonight that there is "real hope" for an East-West summit meeting if Premier Khrushchev realizes that peace in the world is imperative.

Eisenhower, appearing on a television program with Prime Minister Macmillan, said:

"I think people want peace so much that governments had better get out of their way and let them have it."

The president called for broader contacts among all peoples, including those behind the Iron Curtain, as a means of keeping peace.

And he said U.S.-British relations never have been better. Macmillan told the president:

"I have never concealed from you that I have always wanted a summit meeting and with your initiative we may get it under the best conditions."

REVIEW CHEQUERS TALKS

The president and Macmillan went before the television cameras at 10 Downing Street to review their historic weekend meeting at Chequers in preparation for Eisenhower's exchange of visits with Khrushchev. The broadcast was carried throughout Britain and several other European countries. Their discussion also went out on radio throughout Western Europe and North America.

Macmillan said the United States and Britain have had their differences at times "but the great thing is that we have never dropped backward."

"Now we are up against the biggest job in the world—how to keep peace and justice."

"I think your visits to these three European capitals and the interchange of visits that you are going to make with Mr. Khrushchev are very sound contributions to peace."

DANGER OF MISTAKES

Macmillan said he felt that in the world situation today "there is a danger that we might drift into something by mistake, bluff, counter-bluff, lack of understanding on both sides."

"I tell you frankly," he said, "when I read the Russian ultimatum in November about Berlin, I felt the danger of that drift."

It was because of this feeling, the prime minister added, that he himself went to meet Khrushchev in the Soviet Union last November.

The president, referring to American relationships with the Commonwealth, spoke particularly of Canada, which he said had a frontier with the United States of "more than 3,000 miles 'defended by nothing but friendship.'"

RED-LED MOBS BATTLE POLICE IN CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India (UPI)—Police fought pitched battles with Communist-led mobs throughout Calcutta today. Law and order was reported to have broken down in some of the busiest parts of the city.

KARACHI (Reuters)—Chinese Communist troops have entered the Himalayan state of Bhutan, the Associated Press of Pakistan news agency said today.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report from any other source.

The report was given by the agency's Calcutta correspondent, quoting a usually reliable source in Darjeeling, India.

The 18,000-square-mile state of Bhutan lies in the eastern Himalayas and is bordered by India, with which it has treaty relations, and Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru of India announced Friday that any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim, another Himalayan state, would be regarded as aggression against India.

SPACE ROCKET

40 Minutes To L.A. From London

LONDON (AP)—A U.S. space scientist today disclosed plans to build a space rocket that could hurl passengers 5,500 miles from London to Los Angeles in 40 minutes.

Darrell C. Romick of the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation said company scientists working on the rocket have evolved a three-stage vehicle about 150 feet long consisting of a passenger compartment and two separate boosters. Each of the booster sections will be manned by two or three men as well as the passenger section.

Romick, head of Goodyear's astronautics section, said there would be room for about 25 passengers and that the space liner could be flying by 1975.

The passengers would lie on couch-like chairs in the space liner and in a matter of minutes would be shot 35 miles into space at the speed of 12,000 miles an hour.

This peak altitude would be reached about 400 miles from the takeoff point, Romick said. Then the power in the two rocket boosters would be cut off, the rocket would glide toward its destination and when it had slowed to about 400 mph turbojet engines would bring it down into a normal landing.

Two-Acre Fire Under Control

(From Duncan Bureau)

A two-acre forest fire on Cowichan Indian Reserve land two miles southwest of Duncan was fought over the weekend by North Cowichan municipal works men and was mopped up today by the B.C. Forest Service.

Burglars Escape With Good Stock Of Sports Goods

CHEMAINUS (CP)—Thieves who broke into a sporting goods store here Saturday night are well equipped for the coming hunting season.

They escaped with the entire stock of firearms and ammunition and fishing tackle valued at $1,350. Store owner Roy Leason said the loss was not covered by insurance.

Missing were three .308 calibre rifles, a .300 calibre rifle, a .22 single shot rifle and one repeating shotgun.

Funeral Set Tuesday for BCE Veteran

(From Duncan Bureau) Funeral services will be held in Vancouver Tuesday at 2 p.m. for James Harrison Wharmby, 83, who died at King's Daughters' Hospital last week.

Born in Manchester, England, he arrived in Nanaimo at the age of 23, and was a resident of Vancouver for 58 years, retiring in 1948 as superintendent of gas distribution for the B.C. Electric. For the past two years he had been a resident of Duncan.

He was a member of Mt. Herman Lodge No. 7, A.F. & AM, and the B.C. Electric O.A.P.

He is survived by the widow, Clara; a son, Edgar, and a daughter, Mrs. W. Johnstone, of Vancouver; one grandson, and a sister in Manchester.

Interment will be in the family plot at the Masonic Cemetery, Burnaby. First funeral, Chapel, Duncan, is handling arrangements.

The fire, first believed to be under the B.C. Electric power line to Victoria, was sighted by Alec Frew of the forest service Mount Prevost lookout at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Access to the fire was gained over P. F. Enright's Gibbins Road property.

Two bulldozers and operators Mac Aitken and W. N. Matlin, both of Duncan, cut a track to the west of the fire to confine it in the west tank of a turn in the Cowichan River.

A forest service suppression crew pumped water from the river to fight the blaze.

The trouble is thought to have been started by picnickers.

Also blamed on picnickers was a fire on Gossip Island, east of Galiano Island, reported on the weekend. Ranger L. Lorentsen and his assistant, H. Doerksen, attended from Salt Spring Island to find Ross Parmenter, honorary fire warden, had it under control.

Newsman Hurt As Car Hits Phone Pole

(From Duncan Bureau)

A well-known news reporter of Duncan and district was taken to King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday for treatment of injuries suffered in a car accident.

Peter Allen, Duncan correspondent of the Nanaimo Free Press, was knocked unconscious when the left side of his car struck a telephone pole on Trunk Road.

He is reported in "improved condition" today.

His vehicle apparently had gone into a skid on the wet surface when he made a turn in the road near the Marchmont Street intersection.

31 Pound Fish Wins Top Prize of $100

(From Duncan Bureau)

COWICHAN BAY — Jack Young of Duncan won the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club's big fish-off Sunday with a spring salmon weighing 31 pounds, 4 ounces, good for the top prize money of $100.

Gill Manning, also of Duncan, won second place prize money of $50 with a salmon weighing 22 pounds, 4 ounces.

All but three of the 50 anglers eligible to compete in the fish-off took part, and 12 springs, all over 15 pounds were weighed in.

Prize money was presented to the winners by club president Danny Robertson, weighmaster was Peter Thornton.

Chicken Farm Sold

DUNCAN — The chicken farm of A. Moorehouse, Bench Road, one of the largest in the district, has been purchased by W. Van der Laar.

Mr. and Mrs. Moorehouse, who came here nine years ago from eastern Canada, expect to move to the Fraser Valley.

The Yukon Territory and Northwest Territories cover an area of more than 1,500,000 square miles.

'Hagetorium' Burns Press

LONDON — The British press, angry because President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan refused to give it a news conference today, blasted "The Hagetorium" for releasing only crumbs of gossip.

The unkindest cut came when Eisenhower and Macmillan appeared on an "ad-lib" television program after their pre-Khrushchev visit talks.

"The Hagetorium" is reporters' name for 10 Carlton House Terrace, headquarters of James Hagerty, the president's spokesman, and press centre for the Ike-Mac talks.

A row flared up briefly Sunday between reporters and Hagerty and foreign office spokesman Peter Hope.

Today the row burst into print.

Cabinet Shift

EDMONTON (CP)—A shuffle of cabinet posts involving four ministers was announced today by Premier Manning.

A Russell Patrick will become minister of industries and development, a new portfolio, and provincial secretary. Raymond Reinson will become minister of labor and minister of telephones.

The changes will be made official Tuesday when the ministers are sworn into their new jobs. The size of Premier Manning's cabinet remains unchanged at 12 members.

The job of provincial secretary was held by Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor held the telephones portfolio.

Bedard in Upset Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., eighth-ranked in the Pan-American Games tennis tournament, today upset second-seeded Mario Llamas of Mexico in a bitter four-hour duel, 6-2, 8-10, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Fuel oil burst into flames at a surface pump at the Sun Oil Company of Canada refinery here today but the fierce blaze was subdued within half an hour. Nobody was injured.

"Pest!" whispered a Daily Herald headline, "they ate grousse."

"Confidentially, Mr. Hagerty."

"Oh, positively, Mr. Hope."

Wrote The Herald's political correspondent, Hugh Pilcher: "I can tell you if you care what Ike and Macmillan had for lunch. And for dinner. And what the weather was like when they made a trip to Oxford."

"But of the matters of world importance they are discussing at Chequers I can tell you—nothing."

Harold Evans, spokesman for Macmillan, noted that Eisenhower will meet next month with Premier Khrushchev and said it would be "rather too much to expect" that the substance of what Eisenhower and Macmillan have discussed "should be set out in detail for Mr. Khrushchev to inspect."

HOUSEWIVES NAB IKE TO WISH HIM GOOD LUCK

LONDON (AP) — Two housewives seized an unexpected opportunity for a personal chat with President Eisenhower today as he headed through London to St. Paul's Cathedral.

The scene was Kensington High Street, a big shopping centre.

The motorcade pulled into the curb for President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan to switch from a limousine to an open car.

Mrs. Jacqueline Wollaston and Mrs. Elma Atkey rushed up to Eisenhower and said:

"We just want to wish you good luck."

"Well, thank you very much," Eisenhower replied. They all shook hands.
